POEM:

Epitaph

By Merrit Malloy

When I die

Give what's left of me away

To children

And old me that wait to die.

And if you need to cry,

Cry for your brother

Walking the street beside you.
And when you need me,
Put your arms
Around anyone
And give them
What you need to give to me.

I want to leave you something,
Something better
Than words
Or sounds.

Look for me
In the people I've known
Or loved,
And if you cannot give me away,
At least let me live on in your eyes
And not your mind.

You can love me most
By letting
Hands touch hands,
By letting bodies touch bodies,
And by letting go
Of children
That need to be free.

Love doesn't die,
People do.
So, when all that's left of me
Is love,
Give me away.

“ Hey Mom. You and I were inseparable for many years.. Lots of talks about everything. Even when I wasn't with your son anymore you were always a safe place for me. Many nights on the back porch smoking, having coffee and talking or playing categories. You held my hand when both my children were born and I'm thankful you got to see your grandchildren come into this world. 30 years of calling you mom and you always will be thought of this way. I hope you having fun with Susie and granny in Heaven. It is hard now that your gone but we all know that you are watching over us. Love you Always, Beth 🦋
