

Aderonke Bosede Ayeni

April 12, 1964 - July 25, 2023

Princess (Mrs) Aderonke Bosede Ayeni was born in North London, England to the late Dansaaki Samuel Adeleye Lt.Col (rtd) and Olori Jumoke Felicia Agbede of the Ogidi ruling dynasty of Igbara Oke, Ondo state, Nigeria on April 12th, 1964.

She was one of five children and the first daughter of the family. She moved to Nigeria with her parents on completion of their academic sojourn in the United Kingdom. She attended the best schools in Nigeria and finished her A levels in the elite Queens College Lagos where she demonstrated her natural gift of gab, leading the Literary and Debating Society to win many accolades and televised competitions. She then proceeded to the University of Lagos graduating as a lawyer and called to the bar in 1999.

Aderonke began her career in banking at Chattered bank (formerly Commercial Bank credit Lyonnaise) in Victoria Island Lagos, Nigeria where she was loved and served with merit and was recognized for her service to the bank. After her marriage to her loving husband, Mr Victor Tunde Ayeni, she relocated to the United States in 2001. She has since worked as a banker at Truist bank where she was also greatly respected and loved. She loved God, family and community in that order, a dutiful and lovely woman. She served diligently in her home church, an executive at CAC Orlando, Chapel of Praise. She was also a very visible hard working executive officer in the Glorious Women of Faith International.

Aderonke was a reliable and resourceful woman and steadfast in her convictions.

She was a natural leader and a ray of sunshine to every one that had the good fortune in relating with her on any level. She danced with kings and knew no paupers, humble to the core! She loved to celebrate others with joy.

She coordinated activities in the church and in the community. She was a loving and kind woman with a generous heart, always helpful and supportive to all. Aderonke was a loyal friend and sees the best in everyone. Fondly addressed as OMO OBA 1. She was a fashionable dresser and her favorite color was red. The brighter the better. A great loss to her family, household of God and the Nigerian community.

She is survived by her aged mother, brothers, sisters, uncles, aunties, cousins, step children (OLUKEMI, EKUNDAYO AND ANIKE) children (OLUTONI AND OLUTIMILEHIN) and husband (VICTOR TUNDE AYENI).

“ Ronke, your passing came as a rude shock because we still chatted days before your Dad's burial. Your unique voice and laugh; your strong loyalty to a friendship established whilst we were in Queens College, Yaba during our A-Levels, puts a balm over the pain of your loss.

So many fond memories of you shouting Kem-Kooooooo, once you approached my dorm and through the years via phone calls and when we saw in person in Lagos brings a smile through the tears. Ronke, your love and zest for life will be sorely missed. Rest in peace my dear friend!!

“ It's truly heartbreaking to find the words as I reflect on the news of your departure from us, Auntie Ronke. Your absence leaves a void that can't be filled. You were not just a relative, but a shining light in our lives.

Your vibrant spirit and infectious energy were always the life of any gathering. Your warmth and positivity were felt by everyone fortunate enough to know you. Your laughter was like music that brought smiles to all our faces.

As we mourn your loss, we also celebrate the wonderful moments we shared with you. Your memory will forever be intertwined with joy, laughter, and the love you brought into our lives. Rest well, dear Auntie Ronke. You are missed beyond measure.

“ This came as a big shock, a sister with a heart of Gold, who made you laugh at every function that she was the Mc. We cannot question God but we pray that you rest in peace, no more pain. Aderonke, you will be greatly missed, may God comfort your family especially your husband, mum and children, and give them the strength to go on .They will know you are looking down on them , while dancing in the presence of God. Rest on my dear, you will always be remembered, goodnight and God bless.

“ My dearest Sister, it is with a heavy heart I write these words. We spent many years doing things together; despite the age difference, you were always more of a friend than an older sibling. We had lots of fun times together, travelling and vacationing, we spent countless hours on the phone, when we had family gatherings, you were the go-to person because you were the coordinator, the bridge, the glue, that held things together, and brought everyone together, you were a peace maker, and you showed a deep level of understanding and compassion. When we 3 sisters were together, you Tokunbo and I; there was always so much laughter, joy, and merry making. I can still here your laughter when we crack some of our “inside” jokes. I looked to you for guidance as well as your opinion on various issues.

I have lost not just a big sister, but a gem, a friend, a mentor. I do not understand why you are no longer here, but I must take comfort in knowing that God is Almighty. Words cannot express how much I already miss you, the calls on your drive home from work, or at the weekend. You were ever present in my life.

*Rest in peace my dear sister, our very own Omoba 1.
Love you dearly, miss you deeply.*

“ I visited Ronke about every 2-3 weeks for the last 10+ years at the bank. She always brought joy to my face, with each visit. Sometimes she would give a 'gentle' reminder that I forgot a deposit slip or did something wrong. And she always did not care how long the line was, she was going to have her time talking with me. We would always laugh and talk about our various trips. I will miss her. And for all those years and I gave her a cookbook and every year she would say she was going to give me some of her authentic African recipes to include in the next years edition (she always forgot). It was our yearly joke. I will miss her greatly and the joy and helpfulness she provided me and all my family with each visit to the bank.

“ I lost one of my my best friends and a loving sister, Aderonke Bosede Ayeni- Omo'ba 1. It will never make sense to me why she has to die, but God knows best. She was such a beautiful person inside and out, so loving, forgiving, passionate, always lending a helping hand. She loved me and my kids.

Losing her is such a great loss not to just me but to so many who knows her . She touched so many people! Please keep all of her family and friends in your prayers during this time.

I'm just so glad she is no longer suffering.

I will forever miss my friend/sister. Im so thankful for the time God gave us together. This has literally broken my heart 💔Aderonke Bosede Ayeni, may your soul rest in peace with your Maker. Amen!

“ My Mom was a very special person to everyone, she was always making things better around people with her jokes, She would always help me and sacrificed a lot to help me do better in school in the past, she would always give great advice to her friends on the phone every time they called her, she would not back down from the negativity that she got from some people, I will miss her, I know she would want me to not give up of what I'm doing

We, the Good Women of CAC Central Florida district coordinating council have lost a gem - our beautiful, ever energetic always smiling mommy Aderonke Ayeni. We thank God for the beautiful life you lived and for the service you rendered in the vineyard of God. We loved you but our Lord Jesus Christ loves you more. We pray that God will comfort us, strengthen us and grant us His peace as we grieve. We miss you. Rest on until we see you again in glory.

On behalf of your church family in CAC. CFDCC, I say adieu.

“ It's hard to believe and heart broken that My darling aunty Queen (Mrs) Ayeni, Omoba 1 as you fondly called is gone. And we will not see you around again until the resurrection day.

Queen Ayeni, you're a symbol of love and I thank God for knowing you. I enjoyed my relationship with you as sister and as friend. Enjoyed your love, the support, moral advise you gave me as your little sister.

You're beautiful both inside and outside. You love to celebrate everyone. You're always cheerful and thoughtful. There was no dull moment with you. I'm going to miss your special greetings like you used to call me " Pele Aburo mi Luka Luka". We are all going to miss that your beautiful smile that warmed everyone's hearts and made everyone feel welcomed on all occasions .

May the Lord grant you eternal rest. May the good Lord comfort your families and friends you left behind .

You will be greatly missed. RIP my darling aunty Queen Aderonke Bosede Ayeni, Omoba 1

*Tribute to Aderonke Omooba1
Words are not enough to describe Aderonke Omooba 1
I happened to know Aderonke in 2017 at her cousin daughter's wedding. Aderonke, a very vibrant and sociable lady. She likes looking good and taking pictures.
There's never a dull time around her.
An articulate lawyer that's never at loss for words.
A very respectful lady that does not allow her position to over shallow her respect for her elders
A family woman. Continue to rest in the Lord
I love ❤️ you but God loves you more.
