

Albert Peter Soyden

September 8, 1924 - July 27, 2020

Albert was many things, but above all else, he was a loving father and grandfather. His daughters Lisa & Sandy were everything to him. When they were in his presence, especially together, there would be a glow about him and a spring in his step. The joy in him when Lisa and Sandy were nearby was contagious. He was playful, loving, kind and gentle.

Albert loved to play and joke with his grandchildren Tori, Troy and Anna. He would sit in his favorite lazy boy chair and playfully visit with them for hours on end. When they were little, his patience and ability to play the same game, or watch the same tricks over and over again, exuded love.

His wife, Adele, was his true life-partner and dedicated her life to looking after his every need. She passed in October of 2019 and is no doubt rejoicing to be reunited with Albert in heaven.

Albert also had a wonderful relationship with both his son in laws, Jud and Travis. His sense of humor was on full display any time the men in the family got together. Laughter, silliness, and love filled the air.

Finally, Albert enlisted and served his country honorably in WWII. Most amazingly, was how his humility and humor came out in his stories of the war. Albert was a great, natural, and engaging storyteller. The highlight of every family gathering was the time spent listening to Albert talk of his early years growing up in Lowell, MA and his service during the war.

Now, as this part of his story comes to a close, he will forever be remembered as a great man that loved family and country. We will all miss him dearly, but know he is still with us, and will be forever.

As Albert liked to say when one of us was leaving...“Good luck, You’re alright!”

Thank you God for the gift of Albert’s life.
