“ Alex, I am thinking of u now. A little late for your birthday but I feel you in my heart right now. I wish you were still here. I breaks my heart that you are gone forever. It is not fair how life turns out. I find myself trying to hear your voice and it is still there but seems like it gets further away each year which makes me so sad. Stay close please! We need your heart guiding us. Please stay close to our hearts always Alex❤️

“ Alex was like a brother to me. We shared many experiences through those difficult and unsure years between adolescence and mature adulthood. When I would reach a pitfall, Alex was always one to extend a hand of support, and when he himself would fall, he was always able to dust himself off with a laugh and a smile. That's who he was and much more; a comedian, connoisseur of music and food, horticulturist, student, son, brother, uncle, and dear friend to so many. He will always be with me in spirit, urging me to find comedy in the darkest of situations and pushing me to find hope in the future and take positive steps towards it. May peace, light, and love be with you, Alex.

“ Oh Alex, it breaks my heart to hear that you are no longer here with us. I will always remember your smile and your laugh. I will always remember your sense of humor and all of the fun that we had when we were young. You were my first love and I hope you know that you will always have a little piece of my heart. I have peace in knowing that you always lived life to fullest and that everyone that knew you saw the light in your heart.

“ Alex was a good person and a great friend. I learned a lot from him in my younger years. I'll miss his sense of humor and positive attitude most. I regret that I didn't get to see him frequently after moving from Florida, but he always made it a point to stay in touch. He will we missed. Rest in Peace.

“ Dear Alex, we all miss you tremendously, we miss your kindness and love toward the family and friends, your consideration for other people's conditions and feelings, your capacity for empathizing unconditionally with strangers without restrictions or consideration of status. You were misunderstood many times because of your altruism and unselfishness. We will always miss your great interest for a good exchange of ideas in the family reunions and your great contribution to our family.
Rest in peace in the Glory of GOD.

“ Alex, over the years you have commented about the progress of the funeral home and about how far we have come. I want you to know that when you said those things you made me feel good. You made many people feel that way. While talking with you it would not take long to understand how proud you were of your family. Alex, everyone is missing you now, but we know that you are with God and those we love that have gone to Heaven before us.
