“ We met Ann when she bought a property next door to our cottage in Baldwin when she was in her 60's. She bought the property thinking it was vacant land as an investment but when she found it actually had a livable trailer on it, she started coming up to stay. We were really disappointed that she bought the place and that we didn't know it was up for sale, as we would have purchased it. But once we met Ann, and she and I instantly built a friendship, I was SO glad that she was there and was our neighbor!

Our family spent much time with her and Cap over the summers for the next many years; cooking out (especially sweet corn over the fire that she loved) sitting by the bonfire and making smores. I had many lengthy conversations with Ann over the years and loved hearing about her life and travels. Even in her older years, she was so sharp and witty! I learned a lot from her over the years about life and people. She tried to teach me to play bridge, too, with not a lot of success!

I took a few of the flowers and hostas that Ann planted around her trailer and made a small garden by our cottage front door in memory of Ann. I put a cross there and it's my "Ann Garden". No one has been at her place in years and I knew she would like us to have them. She shared plants with me more than once over the years as she was always bringing up something new to plant and as they would would spread, she would share. She was a very giving person.

Our family will always remember what an intelligent and kind woman Ann was!
