“ I have so many funny things to tell about Charlie when he turned 21 we took him to a bar there was a lady there playing a player piano so she let him set beside her and it looked like he was playing it so when he went to stand up he knocked the lady's wig off the look on his face told it all. he went down on his knees looking for that wig everyone let him look for a while they asked him what he was looking for and he said the lady's hair it fell off everyone started laughing and said her hair was on her head. He looked and there it was he said i need a beer, people started telling him he had few to many if he was seeing hair flying off the lady's head. she was a comedian it was all part of her show .What a great night that was lol RIP Charlie keep everybody in line up there in heaven.
