Ever since the pandemic, questions come to mind like "why are people and loved ones are passing away at a rapid pace?" "Why this world doesn't have everything under control?" Then my loved ones are passing away not due to the pandemic. I Then start questioning myself, "Is God in need of angels?", "is there no god?". I don't know what to think of no more but what I do know is that cherish everyone that is close to you and grasp all the love and make sure you spread it. I Love u justin and Christian, thanks for my introduction to the florida life, my book ends when I see you guys again
