

Dennis Cruz

December 1, 1960 - September 21, 2018

Dennis went by many names aka Dennis the Menace, D-Nice and El Niño Bonito.

It's never easy to say good bye to a love one. Even though we don't see him or hear his voice just know that Dennis will always live within our hearts. Let's remember Dennis how he made us laugh always joking and especially the love for music and dancing, and the most important one was his Fan Base every lady was a part of his Fan Base, Dennis had to take pictures with every single lady he meet. His Fan Base grew so big that Dennis always said he had to hold his show in a colosseum. That's what made Dennis, different from everybody else. He was one of a kind when he was born he broke the mold.

Dennis was a person that had so much energy, he would bounce all over the place. If you needed a favor he was right there. No questions asked. He will make it happen. That was just Dennis.

Dennis lived his life to the fullest even until the end he fought every step of the way, he had no regrets he touched every single one of us in his own special way.

It's difficult to imagine Dennis not being around but his memories will live forever.

If the wind should blow by softly, you'll feel an ANGEL KISS just know that's Dennis saying farewell until we meet again.

“ Dennis, my brother. May your spirit fly free within the Kingdom of Heaven, and walk with the Angels of the Lord. You were a shining example of what it means to be a leader and not a follower. May the Lord continue to watch over you, bless and keep you, and cause his light to shine upon you always. D Nice. your Bronx brother from another mother. Peace and Blessings. Benzino.

I'll promise to always get down to the ballistics of the biscuits and make sure to keep making you proud. You taught me a lot of things and above all of them, was that you'd always be there for me. “ Farewell my brother, you were the brother I never had. It's not easy to say good-bye but I know you were in a lot of pain and you're in a better place now. I know you always said to me that when you go home with the Lord you were going to come back and pull my feet at night. Please don't. I'm going to miss your laughter, your energy and most of all your puppy eyes. You will be truly missed. I Love You For Free. Until we meet again. Love you always your sister Lisa
