

Felix L. Zayas, Jr.

March 22, 1959 - February 16, 2024

Felix L. Zayas, Jr., was a man renowned for his infectious laughter and vibrant spirit. His presence illuminated every room he entered, ensuring that dull moments were a rarity in his company. With an uncanny ability to connect with people, Felix effortlessly forged friendships through the art of conversation. His sharp wit and humor were ever-present, bringing laughter to those around him.

An unwavering devotion to his beloved New York Giants characterized Felix's sports allegiance, despite adversity and countless losses. His loyalty to the New York Yankees was equally passionate and loyal. Renowned for his passionate debates, particularly with his brothers, Felix fearlessly engaged in heated sports discussions, never hesitating to express his unfiltered opinions.

Beyond his love for sports, Felix possessed a kind heart, always ready to extend a helping hand to anyone in need, whether they were family or strangers. His altruistic nature left an indelible mark on the lives of those fortunate enough to know him.

He was the son of Carmensila Vazquez Cruz and Felix Luis Zayas. He is survived by his son Erick Andres and two grandkids, his Fiancé Socorro Ramos, Carmensila, and Pedro Romero, and his siblings Wanda, Felix Jorge, Nancy, and Luis Berto Zayas.

In honoring Felix's memory, may we strive to embody his warmth, humor, and unwavering kindness in our own lives. He will be deeply missed and fondly remembered by all who had the privilege of knowing him.
