Stevie got married to a wonderful woman. They are so Lucky to be so much in love. They are so much alike but different. They accept each other just the way they are. I guess you call that unconditional love, again so hard to find. They were married December 29, 2019 and what a wedding it was. I cried most of the time. I felt so ridiculous and embarrassed. I remember when I was younger I never cried. Anyway I missed you being there but I thought of you often. I love you still and as much if you were still here. I miss you most and wish I could have a hug.

“Dad it's almost a year since you lwent to heaven. I still miss you and wish so much that you were here. I'm not crying all the time but when I do it just happens all of a sudden. I thought to myself recently that I should be happy. That I should think of all the good things and the good could cancel out the sadness of missing you so. I'm trying to do this but my heart fills up and the flood begins. It's hard being without you. No one is here to help me with my problems. You always wanted to 'sit down and talk about it". Everyone is to busy and I don't trust anyone like I did you. I feel so alone here without you. I've been helping Mom clean and I still smell your cancer. No matter how much bleach I use it still lingers. It's not a smell I want to remember. It was a hoerible odor that cancer. I'll have to got to the Yankee Candle shop and find a smell that reminds me of you. A better one. I haven't painted at all. The only painting I've done is around the house. I've not been beading either. Nothing really interests me in the creative department. Maybe I'll stop by Memories in the Making and say hi to Pam. Might get me back on track. You helped keep connected. I'm so alone. I'll work on it dad and update you later on.

“ I remember mowing your lawn every weekend when you lived on Post Lane. I was so afraid you would have a heart attack doing it so I'd run over when ever it needed to be mowed. Eventually you needed by-pass surgery. When I visited you in the recovery room after surgery you were trying to shake off the anesthesia. You were so groggy telling me that the gas can to the lawn mower was full and did I have enough gas. Just out of heart surgery and you were worried about me. I love you so much and miss you dad. Kisses and many more hugs.

“ To the Publicover family:

I feel privileged to have had the honor of getting to know Jerry. His outlook on life was an inspiration to me. He discovered the world of art and his talent for painting later in his years, but was a prolific artist. His artwork now lives on as a legacy for his family. Truly an unforgettable gentleman, I know he will be greatly missed. Carol, Karen and all of the family, please know that you are in my thoughts and prayers.

“ Most of my favorite memories of my Dad usually involved food! Dad loved having the entire family, plus extended family and plus friends of family over for the holidays. We always enjoyed watching him carve the turkey with precision and care. His great grandson, Aiden, would wiggle into a chair beside Papa to watch him with complete awe.

Dad loved to go out to eat...even though Mom loved to cook and is very good at it. Eating out meant meeting random people that Dad would talk to. Dad's kindness and wit made it next to impossible for these 'former strangers' not to smile!

Dad cared so much about our family and almost anyone he ever met. He loved to open his arms to greet you and then open his heart to share as much conversation that time would allow.

A few of my favorite meals with Dad were in Italy and Switzerland. While in Rome, Dad ordered Grappa for my husband Larry. Grappa is nearly impossible to drink, it is extraordinarily strong and foul!! Everyone (including Mom, her friend Tony and his wife) had such a good laugh that we cried!

On another occasssion, Dad, Mom, Larry and I had an exceptionally delicious meal on an exciting train ride through the Alps in Switzerland. Dad loved trains, so it was a win-win with the food, the train, and sharing it with us!

After the four of us arrived in our Swiss hotel overlooking Lake Geneva, my very favorite memory of my Dad was when he spontaneously took me in his arms to dance without music. Dad was living in the moment and he shared that joy with me...sort of like a Cinderella experience!

Memories of so many wonderful meals and moments with Dad were enjoyed then. Now theses memories are cherished in my heart forever. Thank You for everything my dear Dad. I love You, Kerry

“ I've been so so sad I couldn't think of one good memory to share with everyone about my dad. Today I've remembered one, it's a start.

My dad always wanted us to sit down and discuss our worries, problems whatever chotastrophe we had going on in our lives because he wanted to help. As he would say "Let's get to the bottom of it and we can work it out". He always took the time to find out how we were. If we needed anything he was there always making sure we were happy. Dad didn't care what we were i.e.: doctors, lawyers or flipping hamburgers. He just wanted us to be happy. I want you to be happy when you grow up that's all, happy. 🙄 I'm trying dad but I miss you. 🙄

Jerry was so full of enthusiasm for life and let nothing deter him from enjoying every precious moment -----he became the most incredible artist and we were always in awe of this God given talent

“ We feel honoured to have known Jerry. Carol was my mother's bridesmaid a few years back (!) & they stayed in touch after my Mum moved to England & had my brothers & I. We were hosted by Carol & Jerry with our 2 children & taken in by their family. Over the years we have met in Florida & in the U.K. Most recently in the U.K. After a cruise trip. Jerry was without doubt one of the most naturally funny men I knew, caring & so thoughtful & kind to me & my young family. We have a cuddly toy, one of my daughters very first, called after Jerry & still dearly loved by my 23 year old daughter. You will always be in our hearts Jerry & we are so sad that you are no longer with us physically, but I will always smile when I think of you & Carol. Happy you are pain free & at peace. Our love & prayers are with you Carol & the family. Hopefully we can see you soon to hug & share lovely memories...with our love... Guy, Geraldine, Victoria & Scott , Letchworth, England
