“ I leased to Hector in Tampa. He walked in, i of course talked his head off and then I found out he was moving from California... WHAT?!! I found him fascinating. This guy with the goofy great laugh, from Cali to FI, how does he not look his age, he says he's going to cook me dinner, oh and pets. I didn't know hector long but the time that I did get to know him I was very fond of him. He thanked me always for putting him next to his neighbor lol. I'm truly sad he didn't make it to his next step and journey but I do believe heaven is a beautiful place and with a soul like that he's made it up there.

Prayers to his mom and his sister and all loved ones.

You made your life here among us and you always introduce me as your aunt to your friends. An amazing person you were and loved by everyone you touched. Sometimes you would call me because you wanted to talk. I hurt so much because you're not here, I will always cherish the good memories we had. RIP my beloved and dear nephew, till we met again. On his first day I was trying to very "boss" like and I stood up and apparently my zipper was down 😬 Hector told me right away when I stood up and from that moment on we were very close friends! We had a good laugh and I was able to just be me. We have been friends for 10 years and he will always have a special place in my heart! He was a very special soul!

“ Hector,

The First time we met was during my daughter's 2nd birthday party. We were having a family gathering and getting into the groove. Everyone was having drinks and having a good time. During the party there was a knock on the door and there I see your face. I was like, "Can I help you?" I had no idea who you were. Then you said, "I'm your cousin Hector!" With beers in tow of course I let you in! You were so funny that night and I was happy to have met you. I had no idea you had spent so much time with my Dad and Aunts in their early years and told me some funny stories about them growing up.

I wish I had more time with you dude. You were such a cool presence and you really made your mark. We were looking forward to having you over again and it saddens me to know you aren't here anymore. I love you and miss you. Our family wishes you the best in the afterlife. Whether you move on to another life, heaven, or another plane we wish the best for your spirit.

God Bless,

“ I finally got some courage to writing this. I never thought that I would have to write this so soon. It was a shocking day for me when I got a phone call from Roger Buan earlier in the morning of Sep 18, 2016. I still can't believe and can't accept the fact that one of my best friends Hector Garcia has passed away on Saturday Sep 17, 2016 due to heart attack at his sister's place in Florida. He was scheduled to fly back today to California and perhaps move back to Long Beach after he departed beginning of this year. Last time I heard back from him was on Aug 2, 2016 when he comforted me while mom was hospitalized with his words thru texts. He was so young to leave us so sudden and it was totally unexpected. All the memories pouring on my mind. All I know he was really a fun and happy guy. I never had a dull moment with him. I still can visualize the first time when I met him almost 12 years ago the day at the Long Beach Pride. He was out of breath running to meet us and so hilariously described his whereabouts. Instantly we became friends and rest of it was history. I visited so many times and stayed numerous times at his place and spent so much quality times. He loved Halloween and I helped doing his makeup last year. And I promised to do his makeup this year too even if I had to fly to Florida. He was so much fun and a happy loving guy. He made all of us laughing all the time and his laugh was infectious. We cooked together and he was a very good cook and took culinary lessons to improve his cooking skills in order to entertain his family, relatives, guests and of course his friends circle. He was very meticulous when it came to cooking. He would get upset if I didn't follow his style in the kitchen and would make fun of me. He would come up with funny nicknames to all of his close friends and would call me either Little Buddha or Madam Curry. When I had parties at my place he would stay in my house and I always had a separate room for him. Sometimes he would call me for advice on his personal or financial matters and we would talk for hours on the phone. I loved this guy very much so that I actually came up with monthly gatherings among our close friends so that we could see each other often and to have fun and laugh. I am so depressed and sad and I still can't get over the fact that he is no longer among us. It's a tremendous loss for me and for his family and other friends. I pray that you rest in peace and God bless your heart. You will never be forgotten from my memory as long as I live. I will meet you in heaven one day and then we can start our own party eternally. Your good heart and good karma will be recognized. You will be remembered always among us. God bless you and RIP my dearest and lovely friend. I love you so much and you knew I loved you too when you were alive.

As life has its own way to choose its path, I am very saddened to say good bye to you. Although my heart is bleeding, internally and emotionally I am so down for your sudden departure. You will be always remembered in my mind and in my heart. I pray that God bless your heart and you will be rewarded for your great karma. I still don't want to let you go but I have no other way to stop this. So rest in peace my friend watch over me.

“ My dearest nephew as I sit in front of my computer and look at your picture I just want to cry, it hurts to know that you're not among us, you were so full of life, happy and laughing all the time, I remember the days you would call me because you needed to talk to me, having drinks together, coming over your house because you were cooking for the family get together, simply cracking jokes. You were a giant with a heart of gold. I remember the day you were born, your mom called me twenty minutes after she got to the hospital and told me I had my baby already and when you and her came home sometimes you screamed like there were no end to it. I remember baby sitting you and your brother when your mom had to run short errands, changing your diaper and you introducing me to your friends as your aunty. You see those are the kind of things that I will never forget and yet it hurts so much that you're gone, you've been among us for so long that we considered you as our family. I remember when you left in February I told you, you'd be coming back and you reply no I'm not, I'm going to make it work and stay in Florida and I reply you be back in six months or by December because you were so attached to the kids so bad that you were going to miss them and I was right. You were suppose to arrive this past Monday and surprise us and what a surprise we got when we heard the news. I know you want us to be happy for you, but tell me how can we be happy when it's so painful to know you're gone? My dear nephew Rest In Paradise until we meet again, oh and thank you for been a fantastic uncle to my grandkids that loved you with all their heart

“ Hector was such an amazing person. He had such a personality that would make you smile. I have fond memories of Hector from when we were kids back in Chicago. We became good friends growing up. It has been over 15 years since I last seen Hector when he came in to the bank where I worked at with his dad. He had a smile on his face and looked just the same as I remembered him. He will truly be missed. My family and I send our condolences and prayers to his family. Hector, my childhood friend, I will miss you very dearly. You were the sweetest person with a heart of gold. “ So many beautiful memories can be shared about Hector and he was loved by so many his smile, laughter, loyal friend and his love of life were all contiguous but his love of family and how he was there for them with a smile and open heart, God was so good that before he called him home he gave him the time to spend time with the mother who he adored, his father, bonus father Henry, his sisters Melissa/Anita, brothers Julio Jr/ Billie, Carlos and blessed to attend the wedding of his beloved sister Ana (as children his playmate and probably partner in crime) I loved him as a little boy and still loved but respected the man you became this sweet Hector is not good but but till we meet again in our Lords home 🍷

I'm sorry I never met your son but with all that you have been through the last couple of years I don't know how you are holding yourself together. No parent should ever have to bury their child. If your son was anything like you then you should be proud of him. I've been reading your posts and glad that your partner was there for you as she has done in the past. Sometimes life does strange thing to our life. Stay strong for yourself and the rest of your family through this difficult time. God Bless you and may your son Rest In Peace.
