

Jalissa M. Oliva

October 26, 1992 - November 30, 2025

It is with profound sadness and heavy hearts that we announce the sudden passing of Jalissa Marie Oliva, age 33, on Sunday, November 30, 2025. Jalissa was born on October 26, 1992, in Chicago, Illinois, to her parents Madeline Malave and Stanley Oliva. She was the eldest of two daughters and a devoted big sister to Jailene Mariah Oliva, a role she embraced with pride, love, and unwavering loyalty. Jalissa now reunites in eternal peace with her mother, Madeline, who passed away four years ago.

Jalissa moved with her family to Kissimmee, Florida, during her early school years and later made her home in Orlando, where she built a life filled with purpose, joy, and deep connections. She was a lifelong fan of video games and an avid lover of Pokémon, a passion that brought her comfort, creativity, and a sense of community.

For 15 years, Jalissa dedicated herself to her work at Universal Studios, where she built a respected career in merchandise. She was admired for her strong work ethic, bright spirit, and kindness toward both guests and colleagues. Jalissa was immensely proud of her upcoming promotion, scheduled for March—a milestone she had earned through years of commitment and heart.

At age 27, Jalissa welcomed her beloved son, Norrin, who instantly became the light of her life. She adored him deeply, and the bond they shared was unmistakable and immeasurable. Together with her fiancé, Alex, Jalissa was building a beautiful future. The two were planning to marry next year and had countless adventures ahead of them—dreams now held tenderly in the hearts of those she leaves behind.

Her happiest moments were the simplest: snuggled on the couch with her fiancé flipping between a hundred streaming services until they found something they both loved. Or packing up their son Norrin in the car, windows down, blasting country music.. they would drive nowhere and everywhere, chasing sunsets and new adventures,

That was her. Alex's best friend, fierce gamer girl, his road-trip partner, the mother who made their son feel like the most important person in the universe.

Jalissa is survived by her son Norrin Ziegler, her fiancé Alex Ziegler, her father Edwin Oliva, and her sister Jailene Oliva. She also leaves behind her loving grandparents Maria and Celestino Malave; her aunts Joanne Rivera (married to Ivan Rivera) and Melissa Fredrick (married to Randy Fredrick); her first cousins Brandon Serrano (married to Kailee Serrano) , Tristan Rivera, Leland Fredrick, and Nalani Fredrick; and her great cousin Eevee Serrano. She will be forever remembered and cherished by her extended family, friends, and coworkers.

Her absence leaves an ache that cannot be measured, but her love and light will continue to shine through the lives she touched.

May she rest in peace with our Lord and Saviour, surrounded by eternal comfort.

“ Jalissa, we met at universal years ago and the minute I heard your sarcastic humor I knew I found a friend..... I'm gonna miss all our late night vent sessions, you telling me off for sending you a snap because you deemed it text worthy, your little vids of you singing, snaps of Norrin doing something new that you were excited about, or knowing you were sitting outside because its raining out and you loved it so much. There's so many memories with you to share and so many I cherish. Our friendship was easy, we never held any judgements with each other, life was life but we were always there for each other. Some of the best times I had was just you coming over with some of the old crew and just sitting and laughing together. I'll never forget those days... You became more than just my friend, you're family and you'll hold a place in my heart for the rest of my life...

I love you Queen 💜 Rest in peace 🕊️

“ Jellybean and I met and fell in love at a young age, but the world made us wait to be together. Some nights the only way I could feel close to her was turning on Nick at Nite and watching the shows she loved, pretending she was right there laughing on my bed beside me. That wait feels like another lifetime ago now. I remember our first real date once we were allowed to be together and how the first time we kissed, and she stole my heart forever, We knew we belonged together!

Over the last 18 years we never spent more than a few hours apart, we were always talking 24/7 365.. We were soul mates. We just connected on such a deep level that many don't ever get to connect on and it was beautiful.

Years later we had built the life we dreamed about back then: endless nights tearing through Marvel Rivals and intense Pokémon battles, her yelling at the screen because she was the most beautifully competitive human I've ever known. We'd stack Funko Pops next to Pokémon cards until every shelf in the house told our story.

Our happiest moments were the simplest: snuggled on the couch, her head on my chest, my fingers in her hair, flipping between a hundred streaming services until we found something we both loved. Or packing our son Norrin in the car, windows down, blasting country music.. We'd drive nowhere and everywhere, chasing sunsets and new adventures, the three of us singing our hearts out like nothing could ever touch us. She was obsessed with My Hero Academia (the newest episodes had her screaming about how it was the coolest thing she'd ever seen) and Demon Slayer, but her favorite was Hazbin Hotel, because Jalissa believed, with every piece of her soul, that everyone deserves a second chance.

That was her. My best friend, my fierce gamer girl, my road-trip partner, the mother who made our son feel like the most important person in every universe. She was my everything and losing her feels like someone reached in and tore half my soul clean out. I don't know what forever looks like without her, but I know I'll wait again just like I had to do all those years ago to be with her again.. No matter how long it takes, I will love my beautiful girl Jelly every single day until we're reunited and that's a promise.

Wait for me J... because I know I damn sure will be waiting for you..

You are my one and only and thats a promise

I love you Jalissa Marie Ziegler..

I will never let Norrin forget you my love

“ Jalissa you were taken too soon, I never thought when I left for the army you wouldn't be there when I returned and I already miss you so much. We grew so close my last year at Universal because we worked together all the time, you always had a smile on your face no matter how annoying managers were being trying to keep us apart, you kept me feed with snacks and kept me happy and laughing. You are and will always be such a special part of my life. I remember my last day at Universal and our side adventure and I'm glad we got a bunch of pictures that day. You were loved by everyone who passed through the parks especially the ones you made such a huge impact on like me and all our other friends at Universal who really got to know and love you. I miss you so much and I love you so much. It's hard being in the army now and away from everyone unsure how to grieve because it feels like you are still tucked away in Orlando waiting for me to make a visit. What I would do to give you another ride to work or work another shift or explore the parks with you.

“ My dearest niece, witnessing your transformation from a delightful child into the formidable woman you became fills my heart with immense pride. Your radiant smile and infectious laughter were a precious gift that will forever remain a cherished chapter in our family's history. You've left behind an indelible trail of beautiful memories, and I'll miss our delightful escapades taking the kids to the park and our enchanting Halloween trick-or-treating adventures. You are deeply missed and eternally cherished. May you find eternal peace in the heavenly realm, accompanied by your beloved mother (My Sister Maggie). Love you eternally. Love, Tita&Family
