“ Webster's says a "brother" is: 'a boy or a man who has one or both, of the same parents as you'-that is a woefully inadequate way , to describe anyone, much less, Jim, my brother; who even at a very young age, defied, definition and convention; he was his 'own' guy; loyal, to a fault; caring and loving, as his wife and daughters can truly attest; formidable, and cunning, in his business dealings ; as a brother, I knew all those sides of him-chasing after an entire beehive, when one had stung me, and in turn getting stung himself, more than once, at age 5, giving a glimpse of his fiercely competitive nature; incessantly causing 'mischief" as youngsters and teens-throwing snowballs, at things and people we shouldn't; knocking over garbage cans, and tearing garbage bags, and laughing, madly all the way! And,as we got older-Jim was picked to caddy for Arnold Palmer, at the Western open, and Golf became a "fixture", in his life; we attended the first Bears superbowl(Jim got the tickets)-and spilling so much beer, celebrating their performance, a well-known celebrity couple, seated directly below us, rooting for the opposing team, decided not to return, for the entire 2nd half!!Time, and distance, and the responsibility of families kept us apart, but we were never, out of touch; Jim showed me, the 'older' brother, as much, or more, than I, ever did him; I both respected, and loved him, as only a 'true brother' could; It's these memories, along with numerous others, that will always be 'treasured', a keepsake, for all times, till I see you again, in heaven, then we'll have another long-drive contest-I'm warning you, I'm taking lessons!

“ Jimi and I were great friends in grade school at Faith Hope. We also caddied together at Indian Hill. Whenever I see the movie Caddyshack, and Noonan...I think of Jim. I recall a happy go lucky spirit with the nickname Shamus. My thoughts and prayers go out to his family. Know that he will live on in our hearts and our memories. May he rest in peace.

“ Jimi was a real kick in the rear when he was a youngster. My brother and I used to get into all kinds of mischief with him and his brother Bob in Wilmette IL. Sometimes it was fireworks, sometimes it was climbing onto the roofs of our homes. Other times we soaped windows and swiped pumpkins on Halloween. Instead of Catholic school being a good influence on us, I'm afraid were a bad influence on it! Our poor mothers deserved better but we had the best times back in the '70s. I'll never forget the "bagging" we did late at night in the neighborhood. I'll skip the details so as not to give today's young people any ideas. None of our escapades were destructive -- and they sure were memorable. Thanks Jimi, I'll never forget the friendship and the good times.

“ Kym and the girls. Jimi was such a wonderful friend to me and then opened up his heart to Karen. You can't condense 10+ years in Dallas into a single writing, but they are in my mind and heart forever. Over love and prayers are with you always.

“ Where do I even begin? Jimi has been so many different things to me over the years from a father to a friend. When I was little you used to love (or maybe it was just me) taking me to fly kites. When we moved to Florida it was a lot more difficult to get the right amount of wind! I can't ever forget how mad I was that "Santa" got me a bike or how long I just walked my bike with my friends because I refused to learn to ride it! I finally did and you were there teaching me promising to never let go no matter how much your back hurt from being bent over! As I grew my love and admiration for you did as well, even though I may have had a funny way of showing it! Your love for your family is a trait that I one day hope to find in a husband. Your memory lives on in us. You are no longer physically here but I know you will share everyday with us in our hearts! I miss you so much!
