“ I met Jane thru her daughter Tiffany in the late 1980s and from that first meeting, whenever I would see her again, she treated me like one of her own kids. The relationship between Jane and Tiffany was a beautiful and genuine one. She was a beautiful person, and wonderful mother, great friend and I am sure, the Best Grandma ever. This family was truly blessed to have Jane in thier lives.

“ My sincerest sympathy and prayers for Jane's beloved children and grandchildren. She was so proud of you, all. My earliest memory of Jane was visiting her parents' home, in Hamden, CT. I was 11 years younger, so she was this cool girl, pretty, vivacious, and fun. I was in awe. When she visited, in later years, she didn't seem to have changed. She had a baby with her, but she still had all the same qualities . . . and just brought so much joy with her. Did not see her for a very long while; but now, as adults, I was still in awe . . . she had such a beautiful and outgoing personality. She made you feel as if you'd just saw each other a few days ago. The last time I saw her she had a full-grown daughter and grandson with her. You could see that both brought her so much joy! Joy is a never-ending theme with Jane. She brought the laughter and fun with her. Her kindness and remarks at my mom's passing live in my heart, always . . . as will she. Our last conversation (by phone) was just a few weeks ago. She was upbeat, laughing; and we were just having a good old time, never realized how sick she really was. She sounded happy and well . . . happy to have THAT memory, forever. Did I mention we were cousins? Second cousins! God Bless her and keep her in His loving care. Always in my heart and prayers. Love you, Cousin Jane! Anne Marie (and Wilber)

Oops . . . her parents' home was in North Haven. Always seemed like it was further. Close to the Hamden line, maybe?
