“ My dear brother... as I'm decorating my house for Christmas I'm overcome with such a sense of loss. This will be the first time in years that you wont be the first call or text I get for my birthday in a few days or first to say Merry Christmas. When Jerry Jr called on Thanksgiving and your name popped up on my phone it took a minute to remember it wasn't you. You are so missed. You aren't here but are very alive in our hearts and memories. It's still seems so unreal. So relieved you pain is over but sure do miss you.

“ Dear Uncle Jerry, you were such a welcome and wonderful addition to our family. Thank you for all that you did to love us, including fixing things, cooking hamburgers, and my favorite, making the best cup of coffee ever. Chris and I miss your laugh and smile, but the memory of them in our hearts brings us comfort. We'll be sure to take care of Aunt Debbie for you. Until we meet again... love from your niece, Tee.

“ Jerry, you were the smiling face that greeted me when I would go to Brennan Bodyworks in Orlando! You always took care of whatever I needed. You were such an important contributor to the shop for at least 20 years! A jack of all trades who took pride in his work.. perfection!! I so appreciate you and the difference you made everyday. I know Dan really relied on you and trusted you to mind the store. You did a great job. God bless you and welcome you into his loving arms. May you rest in peace Jerry! Love and prayers,
