“ I cant believe that a week has gone by already. I miss you so much Jerry and i still cant believe it. I just keep thinking of the times when we were younger and we always double teamed Ryan so bad and he used to get so mad and think he could beat you up and of coarse that never would happen. And all the times we would stay up late watching tv and talking forever and the days i used to take yoandu with me to go and play football with two of my friends in knights parkpark. And all the times i would take you out with me and my friends to the movies or where ever we were going and the one time i took you to school with me in the 10th grade cause you were off from school. Even at young age you blended right in with the older kids and had them laughing especially in my biology class. All my friends used to say how you were such a cutie and adorable. These are some of the things that will forever be in my mind. Lets not forget the nicknames you would come up with like The Salt Shaker Pretzel Maker....and the one for your brother-in-law B.j. Which was My Man Pots And Pans...lol...cause everytime you would just pop in at our apartment it never failed he was always washing the pots and pans. Even though its been a week it hasnt gotten much easier to grasp or deal with the fact that your gone. I love you Jerry

“ Jerry,

Though I didn't really know you and we only hung out maybe once or twice, your family has been there for me for plenty of things. I'm so sorry for their loss and you were an amazing person with a smile that could light up a room. My condolences to all the family I'm here if you need to talk. “ My dear Jerry,

I'm not sure of the words to say. You and I know, you won't listen anyway. Lol. You're stubborn & thick-headed, and always did what you want. When I met you, I never imagined I'd meet someone so strong. All the right words, all the wrong, but you knew what to say. We had our differences, we had our place. Together for always, that's what we'd say. We dreamed of our home, a family, but right beside you is where I wanted to be. I believed in you, no matter what. Never turned my back, or gave up. You promised me Disney, and we'd go back. I can't replace the ways we've changed, but I've never left your side, and always had faith. I wish I could have done more, than sit here and rhyme, but we will meet again, surely in time.

You were my lover, and my best friend, forever and always, until the end. I'll take care of Minnie, like he was still mine. Like you've never left, "me n mine." I can sit here and cry, continue to write this poem, but you're forever gone. We'll meet again, one day, but till then I'm alone. You sang along, you'd sing me songs. Nixon tree, o nixon tree, won't you be mine. Lol.

Aside from all this, and to be honest, I've waited five years, till you'd be the strongest. All I wanted, was for you to make us all proud. For some reason, you had a different plan.

They say if you love something, to set it free. If it comes back, it was meant to be. I know we were meant to be, but you had a different plan of your own. I had to let you go to see if you'd change on your own. Since then, things all went down hill and I feel like I blame myself. Not once, did I stop loving you though; Not once, did I turn my back and say I didn't believe in you. I always did. But for some reason, it was never enough. I know I did the best I could, we all did. You were very lucky in meeting some of the people you've met the past year or so. Without them, who knows where you would have been. I just wish things would have been different. We talked almost everyday, and you always encouraged me to follow my dreams. Well, I'm following those dreams now, and I know you'll be with me everyday to see me through. I just wish you could see them come true.

You have a nephew arriving soon. I hope he's just like you.; Some how, I know he will be. And it will be God's miracle, that you are to still be on this earth. Your family and I will forever miss you.;
Sometimes, I don't think you knew how much you were loved. But you were. I miss the little pictures you used to draw for us, and the excited, goofy sounds you'd make when you were happy. I hated it when we were together, but I wouldn't trade it for the world right now. Haha. You sure knew how to make anyone around you happy, Jer. We would have been married 4 years by now, and I wish things would have worked out. But you know, for some reason, I have this feeling like you are coming home and I'm not so upset anymore. You're right where you belong now, and we will meet again. I know you loved us and I love you, and you'll forever be in our hearts. Please watch over your father, your entire family and your new nephew. Your father needs you the most, as you were his best buddy. Your brother misses you to death, your sister misses your ridiculously strong and long hugs, your mother misses the way you'd bug the hell out of her and we all miss that little dimple when you'd smile. Dont you ever forget that. I love you, forever and always, my best friend. Together, forever, me n mine, till the end. We're goin to Disney & we'll get a fat squishy guy. I promise. xoxo :)

Love always,

“ I remember the first time your parents left you over night with grand pop and me. Your mom said you had to have your shoes on as soon as you were dressed. The unthinkable happened, we could only find one shoe! You cried and cried! I don't remember what happened, but I was so relieved when we found it. You were a toddler then, and just didn't understand why you couldn't have your shoe!

You, Ryan and Tiffany were always into mischief, as Tiffany said - the three musketeers.

At the barbecues, you all disappeared, and who knows what you got into. We never knew. Lots of funny things to remember, and even more pictures. I hope you are laughing with grand pop, he loved to laugh too.

You are gone too soon, and missed by many.

You were there for me when my grandfather passed away and when my brother got sentenced to prison, you wiped my tears and let me know that everything was going to be okay. You were such an amazing guy, you were a hardworker, you busted your butt to make sure our bills were paid. You are going to be missed and thought of every day of my life, you will always have a special place in my heart. Please watch over me, wipe my tears, keep me smiling, and tell me no when im about to do somethng i shouldnt. I love you with everything I have and I cant believe you left me. “ This is the absolute last thing I thought I would be doing right now, what can I say about Jerry,he was a Great kid with an equally great sense of humor, in 1997,I took Jerry to the Deptford 8 movie theatre to see the Re-release of Star Wars for the 20th anniversary and we proceeded to get very loud in the Theatre because they wouldn't crank up the Surround Sound system, Management ended up calling Deptford Police on us,Jerry thought it was the coolest thing to get into trouble with his Uncle Lou, I can't believe this happened,if I had known you were mixed up in this stuff,I would have done everything possible to help you, I can still hear you saying to me "Uncle Lou,You're too EFing funny" I'm gonna miss you boy, you were a good kid and I'm gonna miss you!
