

Jida Najar

March 4, 1944 - December 22, 2022

Obituary for Jida Najar

Jida Najar, 78, of Orlando, Florida, passed away on December 22, 2022 in her home surrounded by family that loved her dearly.

Jida was passionate about traveling and the history of the world she lived in. She was always planning her next adventure and loved learning something new about a place she had seen or heard about. Doing this with her husband was what she lived for and made her most happy. She married her husband Charles Guy on January 6, 2017. She would tell you that this was the kind of love she had been waiting for her entire life. Being with him and traveling the world was living her best life. If they weren't going somewhere, you could find them sitting side by side on the couch, watching a movie and acting like teenagers who just found love.

Jida was born on March 4, 1944 in Americana, Brazil. She was born to Abdo Najar and Nura Najar. She studied history and philosophy in school and became a teacher at a Catholic Church. Her love of history has been a life-long love.

Jida was a very vibrant and classy lady who always liked to look her best. She had a little bit of an addiction to shoes, handbags, jewelry and clothes but she always looked like she was going to an event. She was a very energetic woman who enjoyed Zumba, long walks, the gym and always going and doing something. Even if it was just a walk around the block or through the mall.

Jida is survived by her devoted and loving husband Charles Guy; her son, Oswaldo Najar Baciulli; her daughter, Thais Najar Furtunato and husband Mauricio Furtunato; her brothers, Same Najar and Omar Najar; her sister Leila Najar, her five grandchildren; Thiago, Camila, Lucas, Murillo, Letecia and one great granddaughter, Julia.

Obituário de Jida Najar

Jida Najar, 78, de Orlando, Flórida, faleceu em 22 de dezembro de 2022 em sua casa cercada por uma família que a amava muito.

Jida era apaixonada por viagens e pela história do mundo em que vivia. Ela estava sempre planejando sua próxima aventura e adorava aprender algo novo sobre um lugar que ela tinha visto ou ouvido falar. Fazer isso com o marido era o que ela vivia e a fazia mais feliz. Ela se casou com o marido Charles Guy em 6 de janeiro de 2017. Ela diria a você que esse era o tipo de amor que ela esperava por toda a vida. Estar com ele e viajar pelo mundo estava vivendo sua melhor vida. Se eles não estivessem indo a algum lugar, você poderia encontrá-los sentados lado a lado no sofá, assistindo a um filme e agindo como adolescentes que acabaram de encontrar o amor.

Jida nasceu em 4 de março de 1944 em Americana, Brasil. Ela nasceu de Abdo Najar e Nura Najar. Ela era uma senhora muito educada e estava sempre querendo aprender mais. Ela estudou história e filosofia na escola e tornou-se professora em uma igreja católica. Ela falava cinco idiomas; Português, Árabe, Espanhol, Italiano e Inglês. Sua intimidade de história, conhecimento e aprendizado foi um amor para toda a vida. Ela estava sempre buscando uma caminhada mais próxima de Deus. Ela estudava e orava diariamente com o marido e frequentava a igreja regularmente. Ela adorava música gospel, mas gostava de country porque estava tentando ser “um pouco ruiva”.

Jida era uma senhora muito vibrante e elegante que sempre se orgulhava de sua aparência. Ela tinha um leve desejo por sapatos, bolsas, joias e roupas apenas porque sempre tentava estar no seu melhor. Ela era uma mulher extremamente enérgica que gostava de zumba, longas caminhadas, academia, uma nova aventura e seus amigos e familiares. Cada dia incluía algum tipo de atividade. Mesmo que fosse apenas uma volta no quarteirão ou no shopping.

Jida viajou para muitos destinos diferentes ao longo de sua vida e esse era seu plano para todo o futuro. Ela adorava viajar com o marido mais do que qualquer outra coisa que este mundo pudesse lhe oferecer. Ela já visitou Egito, Itália, França, Alemanha, Havaí, mais da metade dos estados dos EUA, Rio de Janeiro, São Paulo, Argentina e essa lista continua. Seu verão incluiria Israel e alguns dos lugares onde Jesus esteve. Tenho certeza que ela está recebendo uma conta em primeira mão dele hoje.

Jida deixa seu dedicado e amoroso marido Charles Guy; seu filho, Oswaldo Najjar Baciulli; a filha Thais Najjar Furtunato e o marido Mauricio Furtunato; seus irmãos, Same Najjar e Omar Najjar; sua irmã Leila Najjar, seus cinco netos; Thiago, Camila, Lucas, Murillo, Letecia e uma bisneta, Julia.

“ Sweet, crazy, hilarious Jida...how we are going to miss you and your beautiful smile! Your love was always genuine and sincere and I always knew you accepted me just like I was. My entire “Red-neck life style!” I will miss everything about you but mostly the love and joy you brought into daddy’s life. It will be a huge adjustment to doing this world without out and I know way less fun! Until we meet again, enjoy Heaven!

“ Jida was such a wonderful and fun lady who lived life to the fullest and lived with her total heart. Wherever Jida was you could be sure there was going to be fun and laughter and of course cheese!! She has reached the ultimate destination that are all working and striving for, face to face with our Creator and lover of our soul. See you soon Jida. We live and miss you!! Prayers for her precious family and friends.
