“ To my dearest cousin Joann. I am so thankful for the fond memories that we got to share. You were always gracious, stylish, loving, caring, and down right funny. Thank you for sharing your daughter/my cousin Tosha with the world. She's a true testament of the type of woman your were. Though there's no love like a mother's love, know that she will continue to be loved by all of the Williams family here in Miami/Fort Lauderdale. I'll always have the most fondest memories of you (and that delicious lobster dinner you made for us when we visited you all) can't ever forget that. Take your well-deserved rest and we will continue to carry the torch for you. We love you always.

My Heart ❤️ is broken right now. But I know that God just gained one more Beautiful Angel in Heaven. May your spirit live on forever in every heart you've touched. I will miss you. I admired your strength as a Mother, your Faith in God ,the scriptures we shared, your kindness, your warm and given heart, the stories and laughter we shared and our friendly gathering at our favorite restaurants. These are the memories I will cherish forever.

*RIP JoAnn

“ My deepest condolences to the family of JoAnn. I met her in the 1970s and always thought she was so funny and nice. I haven't lived in Orlando in 19 years but I have never forgotten JoAnn and the other friends we had in common. Shocked and saddened as I am to hear of her passing, I know her suffering is over and that she rests in peace with our heavenly Father.
