

John Frederick Munding

February 1, 1955 - December 25, 2022

John was an entrepreneur, father, king of sarcastic jokes and lover of music - especially the Beatles. He was born in Ft. Wayne, Indiana February 2nd, 1955 and grew up there. As a kid he would run through the lakes and areas that sat between his grandparents and parents houses. He spent summers at his family's lake house at Pokagon. He started Great Lakes Rubber & Hydraulics Co with his brother Kurt Munding, later moving to both Florida and California throughout his life. In recent years he lived and was based in Montverde, Florida (CEO and co-founder of Seaboard Properties Inc. as well as President of seller finance llc before retirement) working in advertising and marketing with Advantage Solutions when he realized he could not stand the inactivity. He is survived by his two children - David Munding and Amber Munding-Glaeser.

Amber loved talking to him about music, listening and exchanging songs and learning from his encyclopedic knowledge - he was a passionate listener from rock n roll to classical. He loved Vivaldi as much as Pink Floyd.

He was a completionist. The man loved finishing a job properly without any shortcuts. He always wanted to do things the right way and understand what he was doing. He may have been a textbook accountant but he was also a closet engineer. John loved working on machines and repairing structures. One of the most frustrating things for him towards the end was he could no longer do that.

An excellent father who never became bored or lost interest. A good friend who was always willing to listen but wouldn't judge. A man of common sense.

He passed on Christmas night, Sunday, December 25, 2022. Christmas was his favorite holiday. He loved old fashioned hard candy, Christmas music and all the decorations. So in many ways it was extremely fitting for him to spend the day connecting with his children and then pass peacefully that evening. He will be greatly missed by all. We love you dad.

“ I’m Theresa John’s ex-wife. I’m Amber and David’s mom. John Munding was my first love in high school we got married young and had Amber and David. He would make me laugh so hard because he has such a sense of humor sometimes very cynical but still he was funny. We spent a lot of time at his parents lake cottage in Lake James in Indiana. He was a loving man . He was very intelligent! He went through a lot in his life, lost both of his parents tragically, but he fought through it. We didn’t talk for a few years, but then I started trying to build a relationship with him and he did with me so when he got ill I was there for him and would take him to appointments Grocery and sometimes just sit in the car with him while David went in and bought the groceries. He would make me laugh with his humor. He was a very hard-working man, and a wonderful father. I’ve spent a lot of time out there these last few years with him and David. John will be truly missed. I have to say I never stopped loving him, but we had our differences at some point in our life and went our separate ways. I’m blessed to have had him back in my life for quite a few years and he’s everything that was written in the obituary. I have two wonderful adult children from him, and he’s blessed me truly with that, and it was hard to watch him be so ill towards the end. He’s in a better place now, and probably laughing at us down here.
