“ Living life without you physically here hasn't been easy. JR was my first best friend and my twin. I still break down at times cause I miss him so much. Our inside jokes and laughing all the time was how it was when we were together. Dreaming of him is a gift and helps with the pain. Jr lives through us, his only bloodline and i'm honored that God chose us to be his family. At times I can see his face when I look at my sons. We talk about you all the time JR! JR had strong faith. When it's my time I Know that you'll be waiting for me first at the gate. Until then, I miss you more than I can express!

“ I don't even know where to start I was the tag along sister growing up in country place with the boys, I remember your first girlfriend and playing football with the boys . You always was such a sweet and good hearted person filled with so much life . I never thought in a million years you would be gone so soon . Every time I visited your Orlando you were such a good host and always made me feel home . The best memory have of us is when me and Ana came to visit you and Nick for New Years 2013 and we had the dj equipment going on and the glow sticks and playing with max throwing the ball around . We never had the chance to finish my tattoo. It was one beautiful peice you drew. Until we meet again my friend ... You will truly be missed . RIP Jon

“ Moochie, Jenitz, and Chary,
I can't begin to tell you how sorry I am for the loss of your son/brother. I had the privilege of finally meeting Jonathan a few years ago. He is was an amazing person, with a real appetite for life. He will forever be loved and missed.

“ I remember when you all lived in Indianapolis, and I would babysit you all during the summer while your parents worked. Then the one summer you came out here to visit and I took you to the Fun Center. My most recent memory was at Junitos wedding, and you and I were talking and having some drinks. At that moment it hit me. You grew up and you were a man now. You weren't just my little cousin.

“ My heart aches as I write this tribute to you sweet Jonathon. I can remember like it was yesterday how you lit up a room whenever you walked in. As the little brother I never had I still remember the countless times you stood up for me when I was picked on growing up. You always knew how to bring a smile to my face and somehow made everything feel like it was going to be ok. That's something you father Ramon taught you and your sisters. And I love you all for it. I'm thankful that you treated me as a sister whenever I came into your home with Chary. I love you, and will miss you. Only the good die young.

“ It's so hard to say good bye ,
But I guess this isn't really bye
It's till we meet again up above
In a peaceful place called haven
I know your smiling down at us
Now that your in peace and pain free

I wish very much you could still be here
But as each day goes on I know your in a better
Place where there's no stress pain or sickness
I rather have you happy and in your mothers arms feeling her love
But I will say one thing I will never forget how
We celebrated the day I told you I was pregnant or the nights we (you ,nico and I) stayed up late watching scary movies and the walking dead . I could never forget the first day I meet you at your apartment with nico . Or the dinners we spend together us three as one family . So many fun nights and crazy early mornings waking up to loud music and max jumping in my bed with nico
Great memories and I will always cherish them
We love you always Shanice and Gyannah

“ Dear Jonathan,

My dearest brother and best friend is what you have been since the day we met in the 2nd grade at Northwest elementary and since then and forever will be. God had blessed you in my life for so many reasons, But I'm truly thankful for having you as my childhood friend, but most of all growing up with you as my only brother God had given to me. I sit back and think about all the memories we have had over the last few years all very memorable memories we've created together like tagging up on the 408 or the late nights staying up getting tattoo by you .Especially our early morning trips to DunkinDonuts getting our iced coffee with two turbo shots to start our day off with whatever adventures awaited us. Jonathan I love you and miss you...I know now your in a better place as one of gods angels painting heaven with all your beautiful art. Rest in Paradise my friend till we meet again.

Your Brother always Nico

He is definitely in a better place now. I wish I was there to console my family. I'm here morning privately. Love you all.*

“ Jonathan I never thought I would ever have to write on your obituary... Never expected this!!! Growing up with you and your sisters I always considered you all like my second family with you like a younger brother to me!!! we had so much fun together all of us hanging out from country place in tampa to you all moving to orlando!! I loved all the memories we shared and loved how every time I would visit you at your dads house it was as if you were going thru a new phase from hard rock to rap to you going out on your own and doing what you do best art work and tattoos and loved all o your graffiti you would have on your walls, all of your art work and all of the tattoos you would do. You were such a young soul living life to the fullest free spirited man and accomplished so much in your 27 years of life with Kady!!! I will miss you and always love you like a little brother you will never be forgotten I regret never getting a tattoo from you like Dad would always say that I need to have you fix the ones I have!! I love you jonathan Ramon Santos always and forever will your spirit live on!!!!

“ I have so many memories of you. I will never forget your smile and silly self! I remember visiting you at one of your studio, and you were so happy to see me and showing me all around the tattoo studio. You show me your tools and your artwork, your pictures and I knew then that you had a passion and you went for it. And we also talked about giving me a tattoo and I said maybe later. Now I regret that I never took that chance. Your dad was very proud of you he might've not been so supportive in the beginning but I know at the end he couldn't stop talking about you and your beautiful work. We will miss you and we will always have you in our hearts. Love you forever. RIP God Bless..

And to my to my brother Ramon...I will hold u in my heart. God Bless you ...love you.

“ I had no idea on what to write, then again I never thought I would be in this situation. I don't even know where to begin, I have so many memories that I can share, as well as everyone else can. Jonathan wasn't just my cousin, he was my best friend, and like a brother to me. We were so similar its kind of scary. To our taste in humor, music, the way we laugh at dumb things randomly, but I've never felt the hurt like I do now knowing you're gone. You will forever be remembered by me everyday, and I'm glad I can show my tat proudly knowing you did it. I love you

“ Life will sometimes bring unfortunate circumstances our way. How we cope with those circumstances defines our character as individuals. Having lived a life of love, joy and laughter, our lord didn't wanna see you suffer no longer, and has sent for you to join in in the heavens above. You effected so many lives in a positive way Jonathan, all those people are now blessed to have gained an angle like yourself to watch over them and to help us cope with your death. You were my friend, but more important you were a pure hearted individual. I thank you for being the person we all had the pleasure of knowing. I thank you for you ongoing kindness, and I thank you for your inspirational strength bravey. I love you brother, until we meet again, may you Rest in paradise.

“ Jonathan, I'm so blessed to have shared a perfect childhood with you. From playing with your sarwars toys, to telling ghost stories in the dark, you and I were our first best friends. I could tell u my souls secrets. And they never left your mouth. When u left me the other day a part of me passed with u. Your smile and memory's will always stay embedded like a tattoo on my heart. I love u little bro! But you've gone too soon. I wish I could turn back the hands of time! " I'd Give anything to here half your breath, I know you're still living your life after death."
Eternally loving you!

“ I can say that i was privileged to have known Jonathan Ramon Santos the times we had were some of my best times spent not one time wasted with him..its selfish to ask questions to the one above for what has happened so all I can say to be at ease is that he's now touched the highest ledge possible one where he lives on forever a place where no harm can ever be done and where the word suffer dose not exist..this serves as an example to all that life can be as you want it for whatever time that is givin it is up to one to make it all that its worth and that is exactly what Jon did he never missed a beat. I will always and forever love and miss Jonathan Santos. 🌸
