“ Hi Joey, My first memory of you was your beautiful smile and you reminded me of a lovable teddy bear, Later memories were always of your beautiful smile, infectious laughter and warm hugs. My last memory was planning your birthday party at Capone's. You were so happy looking forward to our time together. Our last words were I Love You....Joey, God needed more angels to help Him and, HE CHOSE YOU, and all of us who loved you know why you were so special to Him. I know that you beleive as I do this is not the last time we will see each other. Finally, I remember how you so loved your family always speaking so highly of your mother and sisters and... I am grateful that you let us to be a part of your life and I am so happy that you are safe forever in Gods loving arms. Mom Zolg (foster Mom)

ps Michael said YES! You said it perfectly Joey, yea for you!!

“ I have no Joey most of my life my stepfather Mr Flores was his teacher in middle school. He is a good person he loved life he love to joke play jokes on people sometimes, m and my brother were really good friends growing up through middle school and high school. He sure will be missed very much by a lot of people but now he is in home with the Lord good no more worries or pain that this world we live in can bring to us or to him. To his family I'm so sorry for the loss of Joey you will forever be in yalls hearts the memories that you guys have made together.

“ I knew Joey primarily through my friendship with Dottie, who was his good friend. My memories of him revolve around him going to church with Dottie or shopping or out in the community. I would bring my son Justin and hang out with Dottie and he was always there. My son has special needs. When I later would see Joey at my job, me running around like a chicken with my head cut off. Joey would stop me say Hello, how are you doing with a big smile and always ask me about my son. How is your son? What is he doing? Joey always looked at me as if he wanted an answer, expected one, no matter how busy I was. That his question wasn't a pleasantry, he wanted to know how myself and my son were doing since our last visit shopping together with Dot at Target or Crispers or church. He will be missed.

“ Joey was a housemate with my son and every time i visited he would rush over with a smile to say hello. My son does not speak so Joey would tell me what they had been doing and that i was not to worry as he was looking out for my son. He would say this to me with a big proud smile on his face.I did not know him well but he will be missed. I am so sorry for your loss.

“ Joey always shone the brightest. Reminds me of a quote: "You need chaos in your soul to give birth to a dancing star".... I bet your not only dancing up there, Joey , but you are skipping giggling and laughing also.
