In memory of My Loving Wife, Best Friend, Business Partner, Sister in Christ Jesus, and Constant Companion, Judith Ann Pafford.

If only the world had families with a relationship like the one we shared, for what seems to be my whole life, it would be such a different world than the one we lived in. Nothing on this earth can come close to what you meant to me. I will see you again in a Perfect World, at the Feet of Jesus Christ. I could wish nothing greater than that, for In Him, we are eternally bound together. Oh, if we could only encourage others to come to Him and learn about Love, Peace, and Harmony. I can tell the world that we walked in the Light Of His Word as fulltime Christians. Only the strong in Him will make it to the End Of The Race. Jesus told us to be "Meek", not "Weak". You are the strongest, tender hearted person I have ever known. I shall be Married to you for the rest of my life. I will also miss you that long too. I have always loved you in ways I can not explain. That is why I so often told you "I love you" . When I asked if that was too much, you said no, never. We always ended our day holding hands in prayer until we were asleep. What else do you suppose GOD wanted from us? If we knew we would have done it. You are with Him now and I leave you in His Peace, but I must say once again "Honey, I Love You"

“ I had 12 years of knowing Judy and loving her almost immediately after my brother, Charles, introduced her to everyone in the family a little time before they were married. She was such a warm, loving, giving human being.

As her health began to decline several years ago, I was concerned because she had lost so much weight and she would not eat as much as I thought she should, but she ate what she wanted and drank her Pepsi!! She was a wonderful cook, especially in the baking and dessert category. We Southerners pride ourselves in our cooking but she taught me she could out do me with her wonderful, "Judy's Jello" and a chocolate cake that is too good to even describe. Praise the Lord, I have her recipes and have made the Judy's Jello so many, many times and given that recipe to many friends/family members.

I will make Charles and Clay the chocolate cake they both so loved.

Judy was a survivalist in the truest sense. What you saw really was what you got. She had no pretenses, treated others with respect and seemed to have an answer to any problem. One Saturday, Charles, Judy, Clay, Travis, Logan (my grandson) and I went fishing. That was one of her greatest joys in life. They were trying to teach Travis to throw his line. Well, he did and he caught a rather large thing - Charles in the upper arm - deep with a horribly curved, long hook. I am about to pass out, Charles is doing well, but you can see it hurts beyond belief. Well, Judy cut the barbs off the hook and backed it out of Charles' arm. She was simply amazing!

Judy's sons and grandchildren must know how very much she loved all of them. I have never seen a more giving mother/grandmother to every one of them. To live your life to become the person Judy evolved into throughout her life would be the greatest tribute you could ever give your mother/grandmother. In the Lord's providence, Judy was baptized and joined their church this year. She loved the church, the services, the people and it was a big part of her life.

Charles lost his best friend, his fishing buddy and traveling companion, late night tv watcher and great love. The Lord will see him through this after a time of mourning.....

I genuinely loved Judy and could trust/depend on her and I look forward to seeing her again in heaven when it is my time to go as I already know she is there. What a day of rejoicing there will be with my many loves ones gone on before.

“ I am not very good with this sort of thing. NOTHING I post here has the ability to change a single thing. It will, however, let family and freinds know they are not alone. My first observation from reading posts already made is that there are quite a few that know Charles and Judy very well... those so blessed are truly fortunate. I can add nothing to what has already been said that has not been said. What I CAN do is submit a bit of advice to "like family" friends. But first I offer my deeply felt condolences to all who were so fortunate to have been graced by the, either, family tie or friendship of Judy Pafford.

My advice goes out to three. Travis, you are so young now... you haven't fully grasped the ramifications of Judy's passing... my hope is that you will in every deed honor what she has taught you, the love she has poured upon you. Down the road you will understand what I am trying to convey. You are blessed with several who love and want for you the very same things your grandmother wished for you... as she worked hard to see you attained certain goals in your young life. Remember this... it is important.

Charles[bruddah], for a person to have found a true "soulmate" is more rare than most will ever accept as true. In Judy, I believe you found yours as she found hers. In the numerous coversations with both you and her... I truly believe this to have been so. As you wanted the very best for Judy... she still wants that for you. She has gone ahead... as Jesus said "to prepare a place for you". But she, as am I, as are the many friends and family here are in NO hurry to see that happen. Your mission here is not yet completed... my advice is quite simple... complete your mission on earth, you will know exactly what it is as it progresses. That is what I believe Judy would want for you and for you to do... simply, do it, Judy will help guide you.

Clay, Judy has been very proud of you for the goals and accomplishments you have set for yourself and attained. She has been very helpful,.. as she always has and very supportive. We spoke several times [Judy and I] regarding the potential you have and the course you have set. She would and does want you to continue, steady on course, as you have this last year or so. Again... she will be a guiding light... follow it.

To the family/friends who I HAVE met and am yet to meet. We have a common bond. That be thanks to Judy Pafford. It has been said that a human suffers most when a part of him/her-self is lost... we all suffer a piece of loss of self in the loss of Judy. However so vague we may know one another, Judy brought us together. As the Gospel song presents it... "Let that circle, be unbroken...".

Don Jones in memory of Judy Pafford her Spirit shines within us.

“ My heart hurts for you, Charles, in the loss of your Judy. You two were a really good team and appeared to have a great relationship, in which you demonstrated love, respect and a spiritual connection, through your faith in God. We know that Judy is in a peaceful place (fishing, maybe?) and awaiting your arrival, when the Lord sees fit to reunite you two in the future. Love & Blessings, Pat West (and Buddy)

“ My super sweet and sassy aunt has passed. I admired how strong a person she was and how compassionate she was for everyone around her. I can't recall a time when she had anything less than a grand smile on her face, and her smile was infectious. Most of all I admired the love she shared with my uncle. The two made such an amazing couple and it is still hard to believe that she is gone. She will be GREATLY missed!

Charles I worked with your wife a few years ago. I know I don't have to tell you but she is that lady that comes into a life and you can never forget her. I really looked up to her so much. She just brought so much joy everyday(her spunk and feistiness is a rare treat when someone can pull it off the way she did:)) . She will be greatly missed. She was so protective over me the last year I worked with her, I was pregnant at the time and every time I went in the bay she would watch me like a protective mother. It warm my heart to know she cared. She wasn't big on me going out there but she knew it was my job and I had to so she just watched out for me. I guess god just need one more of our precious angels and he defiantly got one with her cause she truly was and is a angel. God bless you and watch over you and your family as you try to go on. Love, Bonnie
