

Lionel Colin Nurse

May 22, 1931 - November 22, 2018

Lionel Nurse, 87 years of age, passed away on Thursday, November 22, 2018 in Orlando, Florida.

Lionel, lovingly known as Peter, was born in Wilson Hill, St. John, Barbados, on May 22, 1931. He is preceded in death by his parents Lionel Moore and Elise Nurse; and sister, Pauline King.

As a young boy, Peter saw a picture of a Hollywood movie poster and dreamt of being there. He later moved to the United States, living in Florida, Connecticut and finally fulfilled his dream by moving to Los Angeles, California, becoming Head Auto Mechanic for MGM, Burbank and CBS studios, where he later retired in 1997. It was also in California where he married his wife, Margot.

Besides his deep love for his family, Peter loved cars! Most remember him for working on their car or seeing him outside tinkering with one. He was our social butterfly, flashing his charming smile, and kindly interacting with all who came into his presence. He will be remembered most for his optimism, kindness and jovial spirit, his strong opinions, and helping any that he could.

Peter leaves to cherish his loving memory his wife, Margot Nurse; his children; David Nurse, Mona (Winston) Alleyne, Wendy Nurse, Alison Nurse, Jason Nurse, and Ashley Nurse; his grandchildren; Terrance , Malcolm, Raymond, Tamara, Lisa, Jabari, and Cameron, his in-laws; Stafford Cox, Sylvia Harewood and Derrick (Harriet)Cox; great-grandchildren; Kiara, Kai, Resha, and Roje, nieces, nephews, cousins and a host of other family members, including the Moore and Greave's families.

“ I remember visiting Lionel's home and benefiting from his wisdom, experience and humour. He shared with my wife and I his memories of life in Barbados. Let me offer deepest condolences to his dear wife Margot, his children, grand children and all family members. May God Almighty grant you comfort at this difficult time. Rest eternal grant unto him O Lord and may light perpetual shine upon him. May he Rest In Peace.
