

Mrs. Lois Nelson Rooney

May 1, 1930 - June 10, 2013

Lois Nelson Rooney is a beloved mother and grandmother. She is survived by her four children, thirteen grandchildren and eighteen great grands with one more soon to arrive. Lois was known for her timeless style and grace. To her, family always came first. Each child and grandchild has many unique and precious memories.

She was a prayer warrior who prayed by name, daily, for those she loved and those who needed it most. Think of her when you hear "The Old Rugged Cross", "Amazing Grace", anything by the Rat Pack", "I Like Big Butts", or a bullhorn on Christmas morning.

Her life story has been written. It has been recorded on the hearts of all those who she touched with her life. Her legacy is a road that never ends and a song that keeps on playing. She is a testament of Gods faithfulness and represented Him in word and action. Truth was the mantle that rested on her tongue, "if you don't want the truth, don't ask."

She would sit for hours watching amateur performances put on by her grandchildren/great grandchildren. Just as she danced at Caitlin's wedding, she loved parties or any occasion in which her family gathered. For many years she dressed up at Halloween in various costumes much to everyone's delight.

She defined style, class and grace with her appearance and attitude. She was known for her perfectly matched accessories, purses and sandals. On many occasions she could be found sipping unsweetened iced tea at the table; telling stories, listening, laughing or playing games. A few of her favorite things included parties, novels, Fox News, chocolate, Red Lobster cheddar biscuits, and the Holy Spirit.

She was witty, wise and quick to put you in your place when needed. The truth is soft and can only be heard by those who listen closely and just as the truth is not loud, neither was she.

Proverbs 31:29-31 says "Many women do noble things, but you surpass them all. Charm is deceptive, and beauty is fleeting; but a woman who fears the Lord is to be praised. Honor her for all that her hands have done, and let her works bring her praise at the city gate." Lois was truly a virtuous woman, praying for her nation and each member of her family, by name, daily as her mother before her did. She leaves behind a great legacy in the form of a united, loving family who will cherish her memory for all the years to come.

“ People are like stained-glass windows. They sparkle and shine when the sun is out, but when the darkness sets in, their true beauty is revealed only if there is a light from within.

“ You were always there to keep me in check when I needed it, and I was very fortunate to spend so much time with you as I was growing up. You are a role model to all of us who knew you, and you enriched the lives of everyone around you. There won't be a holiday that passes that I won't think of you, but I know that you will be there watching over us. No person could ever replace you, and you will be greatly missed.

“ Sometimes a friend is like a favorite book, You know her every thought and word and look --- And yet you like her handy, on your shelf, because, somehow, she warms your deeper self.

She may not hold the thrills that others do, but just because she's genuine and true, Like some fine masterpiece beyond compare, when all the rest are gone she'll still be there.

Yes, some friends are a lot like favorite books, They don't depend upon their fame or looks. Its what's inside -- their deeper basic worth -- That makes us hold some friends the best on earth.

I'll miss you old friend.

“ Lois was always a lively lady that was up for anything. From dressing up for Halloween to dancing with her grandkids to riding on back of truck singing Christmas songs. In all the years that I knew her, she treated me like part of the family. I remember her making me laugh talking about racy subjects that I won't mention. She loved all of her family. All of her family will have fond memories to hold in there hearts forever. Lois will be greatly missed by all. From Rhonda
