Tribute Wall

“ To my dear friend Janet.... Wow London is really not here with us anymore. I want to admire your strong spirit of determination and over all abundance of love, you've showed this precious soul.

You've triumphed through so much while catering and accommodating your own needs, while placing both your children's first. Specifically, I recall London writing a paper about how he adored you and recalled you as his "Best Friend". London bragged and spoke so powerful on how he would triumph through everything, in addition to purchasing you a G- Wagon. Hell, I figured London has good taste, I want one myself.

Janet job well done, you indeed stayed persistent and resilient to promptly support London in whatever was necessary at the time. You definitely have earned your roses 🌹.

I pray strength, understanding, wisdom, love & peace and unwavering support, to be with you and your family.

Thank you Carmen for these kind words. I just want to wake up one day and think all this was a dream. You know how much I love my make-up but God knows it's pointless wearing it because by daily tears almost a year lately gets worst.

Thank you for all your support it means a lot.

“London McClure will undoubtedly be missed but not forgotten. He was charismatic, funny, exuded confidence, and had the biggest smile. To know London profoundly, you would have unequivocally recognized that he was a philosopher in his own right, and eventually the world would have witnessed the true genius of this young man. He had a natural proclivity for asking questions that were thought-provoking, but this was his approach to arriving at the core of the matter.

London had an inquisitive mind and ardent interest in the pursuit of a deeper understanding and meaning of life, which was his way of unfolding the truth. He spoke directly from the heart, was very candid in his delivery, and the power of his message had the force to motivate you to be a better person.

“ I have know Landon seen he was a child. I met him when I started working for his grandmother. Landon was a well mannered, kind and loving person. As young as he was he was very respectful to me. He saw me as part of the family. I would make breakfast for and his sister to enjoy. Although I had changed job, Landon growth and achievements were always shared with me as he and his mother thought it was important for me to still be a part of his development. I am extremely saddened by his loss. The world has lost a young man that would have made a difference. My condolences go out to the family and May his soul Rest In Peace 🙏

“London was one of the finest students among the hundreds I've taught over the last decade. He was cheerful, conscientious, always willing to do his part. He was a straight A student and was the class topper in high school, as well as on the Presidential List for the best students during his college years. Nothing will replace this incalculable loss. Janet, Rohan and Ronet worked tirelessly to support him. He was a godsend to all of us. The memories we share of him will live on forever. My dear student, I will never forget you. Rest in peace. You are a beautiful soul.
