“ Lorenzo my friend, you will be truly missed! You were such a good person inside and out. It was just recently (yesterday) I learned about your passing. My heart was broken. Me and my family met you over 30 years ago here in Orlando... you were working for the City of Orlando. It seems like yesterday. It shows you how quick time passes us by its really difficult for me to type this post. I know you would not want me to mourn over your passing. So I will think of happy thoughts. Well my friend, I did not get the chance to say good bye, but that's okay. It will never be good bye, because we will meet up again ..so you keep up with that tally added on to those 30 years. I LOVE YOU LO LO!!!! Rest in Piece my friend. Jackie

“ *Gods comfort & Strength to the family, friends & loved ones. May his soul Rest in Eternal Heavenly Peace.
Remembering high school with you, Tonio & my bestie Thalia, who transitioned also. I loved our friendship & open communication
You were always easy to talk to. When I tend fm the Navy & the changes of adult hood was upon us. We talked about the difficulty of becoming responsible. Its been years but my memories are ever present. You were my schoolmate, friend, brother, counselor & I will always remember you. LoLo4Lyfe*

“ Uncle Lorenzo, thank you for being one of the first examples outside of my Grandfather to show how a man is supposed to remain constant, present, and accessible to his family. I will always remember the smile on your face as I watch you toss your girls around playing with them just as you would do your sons. Love you UNC

“ I'll never forget when you gifted Loren with her first pair of diamond earring for her first birthday, no one could tell me you weren't a millionaire! :-) I was a child myself, but that moment stuck with me - it showed my how men were supposed to love and care for their children. I'm grateful that I saw you for Christmas, it had been years. You'll be missed Uncle Lo. May your legacy live on through your children and grandchildren. Love always...Shannon.
