This is a poem from his daughter Shelly:

Just a Little House

In heaven there are many mansions
Each and everyone is sparkling new
But I don't need a great big mansion
Just a little house will do,

Just let me be with Jesus
When my time on earth is through
No I don't need a fancy mansion
Just a little house will do

Yes a little house in heaven
In some corner tucked away
Were I can see the master
And be with him each and everyday

Where we can walk the streets of gold
Together as each day begins anew
No I don't need a mansion
Just a little house will do

If I've earned a home in heaven
When my life on earth is through
If I'm judged and then found worthy
To receive the reward I'm due
If you tell me welcome home my son
Here's your mansion bright and new God I don't need a mansion
Just a little house will do

He was loved very much and will be missed by all.

“ Don't think of him as gone away, his journey's just begun. Life holds so many facets, this earth is only one. Just think of him as resting, from the sorrow and the tears. In a place of warmth and comfort, where there are no days and years. Think how he must be wishing that we could know today, how nothing but our sadness can really pass away. And think of his as living, in the hearts of those he touched. For nothing loves is ever lost, and he was loved so much.

“ We Will See Him Again

*The sun shall rise, and is sure to set.
His time had come,
have no regrets.
His life he lived,
we all sure know.
A better place,
he had to go.
And he will see us,
once again when it is our time to go.*

DO

Time heals all wounds. It lets us look back with a forgiving and more even perspective of life and people. Jack was a good man and will be remembered for the love and friendship he shared with us - not for mistakes or troubles from the past. Hope you are well. Would love to hear from you, better yet see you sometime soon. Dean and Cindy.
