“ This past Friday my Grandpa Lynn passed away. He had completed 88 years of life. An achievement in and of itself is amazing. 2 years ago my boys and my Dad. Had their haircuts with Grandpa at Disney World. Grandpa was always adventurous. He rode waterslides, tried every kind of food, and was always ready to go for a ride. "WHERE ARE WE GOING TODAY?" 🤔 Growing up, he was the one to takes us to catch skeeter bugs up at the creek. Or a trip to pick up candy from the convenience store. His loves of Burgers and sandwiches is something I'm pretty sure my boys have in their genes 😊 I will miss him terribly. No coffee break will ever be the same without his harmonica playing as he was heading to the Center. I just want to thank him for always being open to making great adventures. To helping us live simply and appreciating the smallest things we have in life. We will always treasure our moments together. I love you Grandpa Lynn. 💖💔💖
