

Lynne Munn

November 10, 1962 - January 15, 2016

Lynne was born 10 Nov 1962 in Alexandria, Virginia, to then Army Major Bill Munn and his wife Betty. As the third and final child, she was the baby of the family, behind her brothers Mike and Jeff. As a military brat, she crossed the Atlantic by boat and lived in Germany, while traveling all over Europe, camping with her family on vacations. She then grew up in northern Virginia, where she graduated from Fort Hunt High School in 1980, and then went on to attend Radford University near Roanoke.

Throughout her whole life she spent much of her time caring for others, to include living with and caring for her grandmother, Cora Munn. She eventually found her way to Florida, and called it home. Lynne loved nature, the outdoors, and all creatures great and small. Riding motorcycles, zip-lining, kayaking, going to concerts, all were part of her love of being out and loving nature. She had a heart as big as the outdoors as well, always wanting to help others and never asking for help in return. She found a home in Orlando that fit her perfectly, and allowed her to continue to care for her father in his later years. She also found a home at The Fresh Market, where she spoke of her friends there as family. Lynne was that like, she found family in everyone.

Lynne fought a brave battle with breast cancer, and beat it into remission once. She was always upbeat, and never let on how difficult the battle was. Thru it all she never backed down, or gave up. She was an inspiration. She will be missed by all who knew her, because all who really knew her, loved her.

I worked with Lynne for almost a year. She was a remarkable human being who was always positive and inspiring. Though I knew she was going through some health challenges, Lynne remained spiritually and mentally strong while smiling throughout the day. I will miss Lynne dearly and wish her family my condolences. May she rest in peace.

such a sweet and caring person. I have many memories of Lynne our niece visiting the family farm in Ohio as a child. She always enjoyed all the animals and was always ready to share an exciting adventure with all. Her special love for everyone was such a special part of her. Will miss her presence in our family.

Although Lynne has finished her journey here and will be greatly missed; she is embarking on a peaceful, wonderful one. There are so many fantastic memories; tubing down the river; four wheeling; hiking; fishing; campfire stories; coffee on the porch swing watching the hummingbirds; and ALWAYS good food! Lynne is greatly loved because she loved greatly. Thank you God for giving us Lynne, and please take good care of her!

I will always remember the love and care I saw her give her Dad during his long period of illness. I know she visited him constantly, and spent most of her days off work giving comfort during his last months. She was an inspiration.
