

Marc L Roque

December 13, 1965 - July 18, 2020

Marc Lyle Roque, 54 of Orlando, FL passed away Saturday July 18, 2020

Marc was born December 13, 1965 in Chicago Illinois to Joseph Roque & Lillian Roque. He and his loving wife Carmen were inseparable throughout their 28 years of marriage. Marc embraced his family with his best friend whom he proposed to and blossomed into the loving father he was. He was a wonderful individual to everyone and provided the best he could for anyone he knew. He was loved by many and was the King to his Kingdom to where he will always be loved by ALL his children and family as well. He held everyone together & spread kindness wherever his presence was felt.

Marc is survived by his wife Carmen Roque, children: Hector Junior De'Jesus, Christian Perez, Natalia Perez, Veronica Perez, Jose Sanchez, his 13 grandchildren, 4 great grandchildren, brothers & sisters as well as the rest of his family (Daughters/Son in laws: Ilona, Lisa, Steven and Christian).

Loved by ALL and missed by many- Rest in Paradise King " Marc Roque"

“ I only ever lived my life with you dad... we have so many memories that are so clear to me. I promise you I'm keeping strong for mommy but after I leave her I just brake down so bad.. nayalee loves you so much and the bond you two had was so inseparable just like me and you 😞 I can't believe my daddy is gone... you always had my back even when I was wrong... you always reminded me I was your babygirl. I miss you I miss your hugs.. daddy I'm so happy you know I'm in good hands with Steven.. you did everything for me nayalee and jj.. I only ever lived a life with you and now I just feel empty.. everytime I broke something on didn't know how to do something you were my first call.. I LOVE YOU this pain will never go away not one time in the hospital did I ever think you were gonna go forever I would do whatever to have you back 😞😞😞😞😞😞

“ Uncle Marc, I close my eyes and see you laughing in Aunt Rita's front yard. Ever since I was a kid I always loved the way you cracked a smile right before saying something funny or sarcastic. Your smirk always gave you away. I knew every time you smiled like that something absolutely hilarious was going through your mind and you were about to make the entire room burst out in laughter, so loud that you could hear it from outside our families houses each time we were all together. Sounded like an audience at a comedy show. I would be outside in grandma's yard and hear everyone cracking up..I knew you had some kind of contribution to making that happen. I would have to run inside and see what I missed. Your gift was giving us the kind of laughter that is so hardy that your head automatically falls backward and you'd have to hold your stomach cuz you cant stop laughing. Your jokes were always the kind that remained and we would laugh again hours, days or even years later about it. I'm sure you had no clue how you make people's faces light up and smile whenever they speak of you. And if you did have a clue, Im sure you'd turn that into a joke.."yeah I'm the shit or some kinda funny/ sarcastic reMARC! I have never seen that with anyone else in my life, you are so likable, personable and unapologetic-ally YOU! And I love you for that. I always looked forward to visiting you when I was in Florida. I'd pester Tiffany cuz I didnt wanna leave without seeing you guys. It always felt like no matter how long it had been or how much time had past it was like no time had lapsed each time I seen you.You were the same..maybe a longer beard and a few grey hairs here and there..but always the same Uncle Marc.. smiling in Aunt Rita's front yard..running round doing things with her and cracking us up. I admired your strength, your heart of gold, how brave you are... No punk inside you that's for sure! Your crazy and would check someone in a heartbeat! Such a protector of your tribe...rubbed off on Carmen at Walmart you told me a few months ago, lol. She is tough as a Roque could be you said. Oh how important your family and being a father & great husband was to you. "Never heard the end of Carmen's cooking and how spoiled you were with all her good food." When I think of you, I think of how your such a great role model and inspiration... A wonderful example of a great son, terrific husband, doating father, loving grand father, cool ass brother, uncle, cousin, and friend. God blessed you with so many talents and great qualities. Smart, strong, courageous, responsible, unselfish, helpful, kind, loyal, happy, hardworking, funny, passionate, compassionate, loving, tough, chill & relaxed, humble, trustworthy and of course handsome (got them good Roque genes)...I could go on..but we would run outta space! Your just a bad ass all around kind of guy. Exceptional, a great mixture of many of the our families traits..you must of got them all..I see no where you were lacking...and I'm not being cheesy...its all true and those that know you would agree. You have touched so many people in your life time and have left a "positive Marc" (Mark) in our hearts. You live on inside each and everyone one of us. We LOVE YOU so very much..so much it hurts and will miss you always, but we know your smiling down on us..sharing all your jokes with our family and friends up there..making the heavens burst of laughter like a late night sitcom..being God's right hand man cuz you have that swagger. Rest in peace my dear uncle. I know when I see you again..you'll have that smirk on your face and it will be like no time has past.

Love you unconditionally, your niece Tisha

“ I feel blessed to have given birth to Marc and his twin Mike. Such a wonderful time for our family. There was never a dull moment at our house. Hectic at first, trying to tell them apart especially since they always moved close to each other in bed. Mary and Rita kept watch over them – Joe bought every large toy he could find when they learned to sit up. Watching TV, Bozo Circus and Mickey Mouse was a favorite – all sitting together with Mary, Rita, Joe, and Steve. They were all so happy and cheerful. At age 3 they planted eggs to see them grow. Their Dad wanted to purchase a white carpet, so they decided to use toilet tissue and covered the floor with it. They wanted their Dad to be happy. At age 4 they crossed North Avenue, stopping traffic – just in diapers – we never knew how they got out of the gate. They cried very little but laughed all the time, smart and determined. When Matt arrived, everyone was overjoyed. When Marc was older, he served in the Illinois National Guard, worked with his brothers and nephew in the Chicago Deep Tunnel project. During his career path he became skilled and certified in Hazard Waste Management and HVAC. Marc fell in love with Carmen, they have been happily married for over 27 years. Marc embraced his ready-made family and always cared so deeply for Carmen’s children as if they were his own. Natalia was the apple of his eye, the bond between them was unrivaled. How proud he was to be her Dad. Sometimes I wondered why God had given me these children, but I am most thankful, and they all grew up to be strong, loving and caring. You my son Marc, will always be remembered in my thoughts, prayers, and heart. Mama loves you. Marc was preceded in death by his father Joseph Roque in 1994. Marc is survived by his wife Carmen, Orlando, FL, children; Natalia Perez, Veronica Perez, Christian Perez, Hector Junior De’Jesus, Jose Sanchez, mother; Lillian Roque, brothers; Leon Michael, Joseph (Dalila), Stephen (Susan), Matthew (Daisy), sisters; Mary (Frank) Salazar, Rita (Miguel) Berrios, 13 grandchildren, 4 great grandchildren along with numerous nieces, nephews, three aunts and copious number of cousins.

“ I met Marc, through his sister Rita. We got along straight away. He was such a good friend of mine, we both enjoyed fishing and having an occasional beer. His wife Carmen makes the best rice I've ever tasted. He was a family man, you couldn't get him to stop bragging about his grandchildren. He was a big guy with a kind heart. I love you buddy, see you when I get there. Bobbie

“I remember Uncle Marc offering to pick us up from school with his shirt up, scratching his belly, and speaking in a ridiculous deep south country accent. He was always saying something to make you laugh. I also remember him being there for me many times like when I needed to fix my first car, when I needed to get furniture for my new house, or when my A/C crapped out in my house and I needed to replace both the inside and outside units. Every time I needed him he would help me get the best price on things and then do the labor fixing or installing them with me. He was there for his family no matter how his life was going. In hard times I remember him making us laugh because his nature seemed to always be to lighten even the worst situations no matter what he himself was going through. He always told me to call him if I ever needed anything or had questions about anything. To me that was exactly what family is all about and I appreciated him more than I ever let him know. He will always be missed and loved and the life lessons that I learned from him will always be with me.

“ I LOVE YOU UNCLE MARC. My dad told me a story about you guys pranking grandpa. He said grandpa was laying down in bed and You put on grandma's hat,coat & heels and pranced your way out the door. Grandpa yelled " BUTCH WHERE THE HELL YOU GOING THIS TIME OF NIGHT" ... he said you guys laughed about it for days. Grandma even thought it was funny. Your unique, hilarious, loving & caring... You put a smile on everyones face. You definatly put a POSTIVE MARC on everyones heart. ❤️❤️❤️❤️❤️

“ Uncle Marc,
As I sit and write this I am in disbelief that this is all real. I am feeling confused and out of place with the fact that you are no longer with us. I hope you know that I have always loved and appreciated you for who you are to me and many others. You always put a smile on my face and we were blessed when you decided to move to Florida and raise your family here. You were dealt a hard hand in life with your health but you were a fighter. I am sorry I let life get in the way and didn't pursue spending more time together as a family. I will always love and cherish you.
Love,

“ My Uncle Marc was a hilarious badass. He is someone I've always admired and respected. My heart goes out to his family that he worked so hard for throughout his life and loved more than anything. He had a short but full life, full of love, laughter, hard work and dedication. I thank God I had a chance to see him and Aunt Carmen recently. You will be remembered by all of the people you impacted through your journey of life. You accomplished many things before saying goodbye. I love you, Uncle Marc.

“ This sadness is almost too much to carry. Though I know many carry it with me. Marc made me laugh and question life in a way no one else can. He has been with me through hard times, sad times, also most joyous times. We were creative in projects using items most would throw away. Having a love for tools and the ability to fix things brought excitement into the most mundane task. There was nothing he wouldn't try to fix and we were always helping someone. His laughter was infectious and his kindness was humbling. A gentle giant who adored his wife and loved his children. You will be remembered always. I love you, your sister Rita.....
