

Marianne C Faiers

January 4, 1923 - March 15, 2015

Marianne C. Faiers, 92, of Hilton Head Isle, South Carolina passed away Sunday, March 15, 2015.

Tribute Wall

CF

“ Whaleback Islands on Georgian Bay

*Thanks Merry,
I often reminisce about the week I spent on the Whaleback Islands with our moms & Diana Pilkington. God, that woman could yak yak yak and then yak some more thru every meal and far into the night! I had to hide out every day on the furthest little island to get some peace & quiet. My mother always managed to track me down at lunch time, reading & sunbathing on the rocks, to give me a sandwich & a pop so I didn't have to listen to Diana during lunch ;)*

I also remember taking Katie & her cousin fishing in a rowboat so they could get their Girl Guide fishing badges. They caught a couple of scrawny rock bass, cleaned, cooked & ate them! arrggggghhh what a meal! They sure earned those GG badges!

On that visit I read poet Irving Layton's autobiography. On the next long WB visit I edited MY autobio memoir of hippie life on the streets when I lived in the UK. I hope Mom dreamt about the deep blue sky & water of Georgian Bay while on the morphine drip in her final hours.

memories, memories

Chris

On 2015-03-16, at 8:11 PM, Merry Tinsley wrote:

Dear Chris and Jeremy,

Please accept my heartfelt sympathy. Your Mom was dearly loved by all in the Grundy family and will be greatly missed. As you so succinctly said, she is now at peace and it is us that mourn. I will remember her always as a wonderful lady who loved you both unconditionally and who enjoyed life fully. I have wonderful memories of your Mom in Ancaster and at the cottage on Georgian Bay.

*With much love
Merry*

Chris Faiers - March 16, 2015 at 08:15 PM