“ Every room feels a little quieter without your commentary. I keep waiting for the eye roll, the smirk, and the one-liner that would've made us lose it. Thanks for all the laughs—especially the ones we didn't even need words for... LOVE U BROTHER

“ Mike, dude, you were the funniest guy ever, total legend at work. We'd grind through those long shifts on the same clock, just us versus boredom, watching cooking videos til it was time to go home. You'd narrate 'em like some wild chef on a sugar high, turning simple recipes into comedy gold, Classic. But honestly, your big heart stole the show. Always gushing about your family, your dad and your kids. Miss you bad buddy!. Thinking of you keeps me smiling. Rest easy Miguel Zapato!

“ I can't believe this is true. 64 is way too early. It was a pleasure to know you and work with you at the Orlando store. I enjoyed looking at all your Facebook posts with your lovely wife Sandy and all your ever growing grandchildren. You posted so many good times on your holidays and cruises. You will certainly be missed by everyone.

“ Mike was a character. That man always made me laugh and always motivated me to travel and to explore the world. He always gave great advice and kept the store in such high spirit. Word can't describe how grateful I am to have worked with him. My condolence to his wife and children's . He always spoke highly of you guys and how proud of a dad he was and being a grandpa aswell. I will cherish all the memories we had rest in peace Mike.

“ My best memory of Mike was his sense of humor. It didn't matter if you were in a meeting, out on the sales floor or anywhere else, Mike always lightened the mood with his great sense of humor. I am sure we will all miss him. Mike you went too soon.

“ Mike was one of my dearest friends, full of life and love for his children, ever giving and kind to everyone, quick with a joke, he made me laugh and made me feel like a better person. He had a passion for the outdoors, hunting, fishing, and a love for the beach. From sunrise to sunset he was a joy to be around and though we drifted and went our own paths, I will be forever grateful to have called him my friend. My thoughts and prayers are now with the family. Remembering the Man and the legend "Mike".
