“ I miss you so much daddy the pain never goes away. Samara knows all about you and recognizes all of your pictures. You have 3 beautiful grand babies who love you very much and I wish I could see you holding them. It hurts so bad not having you here to be with them, but I know you can see them. I still don't understand why, it was just too soon. I would do anything to hear your voice or hug you one last time. I love you so much daddy :,(

I'm so sorry to hear about Nagy. I worked with him at Ameriserve and later at Clarksville when he bought his own truck. The last I knew he was working with the FBI as an Arabic translator. I just happened to google his name and came across this forum. I was saddened to see this as I liked Nagy. He was a good guy. I'm sorry for your loss. My name is Kevin. Not sure if he ever talked about me from working as my helper delivering Wendy's restaurants.

*My apple tree my brightness
It's time we were together
For I smell of the earth
And am worn by the weather
When my family thinks
That I'm save in my bed
From night until morning
I'm stretched on your head
Calling out to the air
With tears hot and wild
My grief for the girl
That I loved as a child
Do you remember
The night we were lost
In the shade of the blackthorn
And the chill of the frost
Thanks be to Jesus
We did what was right
And your maidenhead still
Is your pillar of light
The priests and the friars
Approach me in dread
Because I still love you
My love and your dead
I still would be your shelter
Through rain and through storm
And with you in your cold grave
I cannot sleep warm
So I'm stretched on your grave
and I will lie there forever
if your hands were in mine
I'd be sure we'd not sever*

*My apple tree my brightness
It's time we were together
For I smell on earth
and am worn by the weather*

*You would know the secret of death.
But how shall you find it unless you seek it in the heart of life?
The owl whose night-bound eyes are blind unto the day cannot unveil the mystery of light.
If you would indeed behold the spirit of death, open your heart wide unto the body of life.
For life and death are one, even as the river and the sea are one.
In the depth of your hopes and desires lies your silent knowledge of the beyond;
And like seeds dreaming beneath the snow your heart dreams of spring.
Trust the dreams, for in them is hidden the gate to eternity.
Your fear of death is but the trembling of the shepherd when he stands before the king whose hand is to be laid upon him in honor.
Is the sheered not joyful beneath his trembling, that he shall wear the mark of the king?
Yet is he not more mindful of his trembling?
For what is it to die but to stand naked in the wind and to melt into the sun?
And what is to cease breathing, but to free the breath from its restless tides, that it may rise and expand and seek God unencumbered?
Only when you drink from the river of silence shall you indeed sing.
And when you have reached the mountain top, then you shall begin to climb.
And when the earth shall claim your limbs, then shall you truly dance*

“ YOU are all I've ever known, through every dreamless night, through every empty dawn.... You and only you alone were my moment of truth...were my promise of youth, reborn. In the corners of my mind, in shadows hard to find, you echoed like a voice that lingered in the air when every hope was gone ...you called me ever on... through my time of despair... You are words I'll never find, too full to ever say, too deep to understand.... You make music in my mind; can't imagine a day, without wishing to find your hand.... Some may wait a lifetime long, and never hear this song, that makes all heaven smile.... And when they ask me who, has made my life worthwhile, as If you didn't know, I owe it all to you... .

“ I see you every single day in my mother. I was so happy to have finally hung out with you last year--only to find you were a carbon copy of my mother Mona ! Your personalities are so similar that it's almost painful to hear her speak right now because she reminds me of you SO MUCH. Before I met you, she used to tell me how you were so close-- and how you would carry her bookbag on your way to school in Egypt. She always described you as the sweetest most caring brother. When I met you, I realized that she was right--and that you truly had a heart of gold.

I loved spending time with you while I was in Florida no matter how much you made fun of me or busted my chops. I knew it was all out of love... I'm going to miss the texts from you throughout the year saying "hi i miss you uncle"-- showing me that this is what I should be sending you. Or the texts on our birthday asking where your gift is..and telling me to "dream on" when I told you to buy my plane ticket to Florida first. I'm HONORED to share the same birthday as you. This I cannot express enough. Every single year on May 11th I will remember you and cherish the memories I had with you. I wish we could make more memories. I admire you so much for the service you did for your country as well as everything you did for the amazing family you have today. I promise to look after my little cousins, and to always keep them close to my heart. This is a promise I will never break. I'm so glad to have had the opportunity to be close with them after so many years apart. Bethel and Rachel are my sisters, and I know that they'll forever be a huge part of my life. Alex is the sweetest young man I have ever met-- not just saying so because he is my cousin. It just goes to show how much of an amazing father you were to them. I know that I will continue to visit Aunt Maria and I am so happy to have spent time with her last year. Looking back on 2013--the best memories I had are with you guys in Florida. I wish it was longer than 4 days-- I wish i spent months or weeks with you--maybe even just a long weekend. I wish I came down more often. That's the worst thing about regret--it causes your heart to ache. The memories you have with your family are the most important thing in this world--I urge anyone reading this to hug their parents, grandparents, brothers, sisters, aunts, uncles, and cousins. The wish for "one more moment" is one that I have grown to know all too well over the past few days.

With that being said I am so glad the last thing I said to you was "I love you so much Uncle Nagy" And I'm beyond happy that I called you to wish you well. That's something I will thank God for every single day. You'll be in my heart and on my mind always...please watch over us..I hope that we make you proud.

"And they all said 'I'm sorry for your loss,' ----as if you were someone who could ever be taken from me."

R.I.P to my Dearest Uncle Nagy Antoun, Forever & Always in our Hearts<3

“ Nagy, I miss you. You were a great man, an amazing father, and a wonderful husband. I regret not coming around. I really do...but I just wanted to thank you. Thank you for helping me become part of the man that I am today. Thank you for taking me in as one of your own and for teaching me things that one else could. You inspired me to push for the greater things in life... I never once forgot you. I've always thought about you. From the times that you would tease me about my earrings to the time that you invited me St. Pete with your family. I will never ever forget how special you and your family were to me. You cared about me and you loved me. You will always be in my heart. This all still doesn't feel real to me, but I know that you're in a better place now watching over all of us. Your family misses you dearly as do I. Thank you once again for everything. I owe a lot to you. God bless you.

I love you Nagy. May you rest in peace.

“ Hoy lloramos la perdida de un amigo, de un herrmano, de un hombre estupendo que nos lleno la vida de alegria y amor. Un padre que lo dio todo por sus hijos y un esposo ejemplar. Pero en el cielo hay una fiesta por la llega da de un angel tan especial que sin duda va a llevar de alegria ese santo lugar. Te Vamos a estranar hermano del alma, pero siempre te vamos a tener en nuestro corazon. Fuistes una persona tan especial y nos tocastes de una forma tan especial que nunca te podremos olvidar.

Te amo Nagy. Descansar en paz.

“ En el 2011, tuve la ocasion de conocerte Nagy, hablo en el presente porq para mi tu alma esta viva en todos nosotros, tu familia y amigos....., la falta tan grande es el contacto del cuerpo que nos entristeze, sobretodo a mi hermanita Jesu, que deseo ver nuevamente, seguramente nuestro Padre Celestial nos lo permetera no tan lejanamente, Haz creado una bonita familia y esa sera la Satisfaccion q alzara tu familia a tu nombre, porque lo bueno debemos hacerlo crecer tambien en este modo, cada dia y sin cansarnos, si no con la esperanza que viviremos todos juntos en la vida eterna, en el REINO de DIOS.

Queridos sobrinos, vuestro padre sera siempre un grande padre, reconoscan sus virtudes entre ustedes en cada ocasion q se presente q esten juntos y lo recuerden con el mismo carino, porque èl estqa presente y no los dejara....

Pero sobretodo oren a Jesus de tenerlo junto a èl en su Santisimo Reino.

Yo estoy disponible siempre, para acojerlos con mi corazon abierto a vuestras almas inocentes de ninos que ustedes y todos los jovenes significan para mi....

Fuertes abrazos ami hermanita Jesu, y besos tambien amis queridissimos sobrinos.

Desde el viejo Continente con mucho AMOR

“ I am sorry for your loss. But is not the end. Is a question that Jehova has the answer in the Bible. Can the dead really live again? He say: "There is going to be a resurrection" (Acts 24:15) What that can mean for you: Comfort when loved ones die, Freedom from a morbid fear of death and a real hope of being reunited with your dead loved ones. Those words help me when I lost my father. Jehova has resurrected humans in the past and He is eager to do it again. That is a good reason to beleive what the Bible says. Can you please read John 5:28,29 with your Bible? That is the most beautiful promise from Jesus, Jehova's son. Knowing about His promise, can give us the comfort we need every moment.

“ I would like to express my sincere condolences for the passing of your love one. I hope you will find comfort in Jesus' words: "The hour is coming when all those who are in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out". (John 5:28,29) Just imagine the joy of being reunited with your loved one.

“ Uncle Nagy was an incredible man with a heart of God. I'm blessed and honored to be have Nagy as an uncle and a friend. One of the most genuine human beings to walk this earth. We've truly lost an angel, and must be grateful that heaven has gained one. God be with you uncle Nagy. I love you and know that you will watch over your family.

“ My family and I had the grand opportunity of knowing Nagy. He was an incredible caring father, husband and friend. I'm sorry God had to take you so soon from us. I wish we would of had more to time to make new great memories. David was right about his barbecues, his chicken was great. All those weekends we use to spend together with his family and Mariaelena, and her family. I just wish I could go back to those days. The kids got so big, my biggest shocker has been Alex. He is a man now. Bethel is now a beautiful woman, and Rachel too she still have those incredible Cleopatra eyes that I have always love. It's really hard to say good bye Nagy, so I won't I know I will see you soon again. Love you always.

“ My sincere condolences to the Family. Losing a loved one is never easy, and though we might know it can happen, we are never really prepared to say good bye to those we love. However, our goodbye is more of a "see you soon". Our loving father God promises in his Holy Word the Bible, in Revelations 21:3,4 "And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away." And in Acts 24:15, he promises a Resurrection.

Though you have lost an important part of your family, hope is not lost. You have the promise of seeing him again, of hugging him once more, or telling him all the things you wanted to tell him but didn't have time. This promise comes from God himself. For more information on this promise, I encourage you to visit the following link: <http://www.jw.org/en/publications/books/dead-live-again-tract/dead-live-again/> . I hope these words can comfort you during your loss.

Thank you for letting me share these thoughts with your family. (jetzy cat@gmail.com)

“ Hey Nagy,

I don't even know where to start. I miss you so much, you have always been a second father to me. You have watched me grow from a baby to a grown sailor in the United States Navy. I'm not sure if you ever realized it but you made a huge impact on my life. You are the reason I am in the military today. As a child I looked up to you, you were my hero. I remember hearing about you going to Iraq and I always pictured you as G.I. Joe getting the bad guys and I remember telling myself one day I'm gonna be like Nagy and get those bad guys myself and here I am today in the military fighting the same bad guys. As a child I never really understood the sacrifices you were making for this country, but now I completely understand. When I think of the word patriotism you are the first thing that comes to my head. To this day you are my hero! I'm so proud of you and everything you have done for this country. I never got the chance to tell you but it really means the world to me and I am forever thankful for your service to this great nation. Along with being a hero you were also a great father and husband. It amazes me how along with all of the things you had going on at work you still managed to be the man of the house, take care of your family, and raise 3 amazing kids who I have grown to love like if they were my siblings. I'm telling you Nagy my mom knew what she was talking about when she used to call you Macho Man! You instilled the Navy core values of Honor, Courage, and Commitment in me long before I ever even thought about being a sailor. You thought me what it is to be a real man. It feels like yesterday when I was playing in your backyard pool and you were cooking that amazing chicken on the grill that I will never forget. For those that don't know, Nagy was one hell of a chef let me tell you! As a kid I had trouble eating but when my mom took me to Nagy's house man I ate like a caged animal! I also remember as a kid calling Nagy "Hussein" haha I had no idea what that even was at the time but I remember calling him that and running like a bat out of hell to get away from him so he wouldn't tickle me! I don't know why but as a child that made me laugh so hard and it's a memory I will never forget. I will never forget the day I went over to Nagy's house and I lied to my mother. Nagy called me over, sat me down, grabbed my arms and said David look at me in the eye, did you lie to your mother? And I just flat out said yes with no hesitation. man you should have seen the look on my mothers face! She couldn't believe it. At the time I was so scared but now that I look back that is just one of the many examples of how much I truly respected Nagy. Just talking about you brings me to tears but you have showed me to be strong! I know you are shining down on me from heaven and I hope I have made you proud. I will be flying down to orlando Friday just to come see you! I love you Nagy, I hope this brought a smile to your face in heaven.

“With great sadness, I want to inform you all of the passing last night of Nagy Antoun.

Nagy (whom most know by his Americanized name, Tony Nagy), was a good friend and an exceptionally talented analyst in our St Pete office. I wanted to provide some small insight into what a wonderful person Tony was based on input from the Blackbird coworkers that knew him best.

Tony was born and raised in a small Egyptian town. His family's strong Christian faith led to a turbulent childhood and early adulthood. He was conscripted into military service and spoke of being overjoyed the day he was released; setting out--on foot--as fast as he could across the desert to build the sort of life he wanted. Those of us whose lives were touched by Tony are grateful for that determination. He took the opportunity to travel to the U.S. shortly after that when his brother provided money for airfare. Tony arrived penniless in New Jersey, but was quickly taken in by an American family that helped him get on his feet and establish his American roots. Tony often commented on the graciousness of his first American family, and how that experience helped form his opinions of the American people.

Tony spent the next 23 years raising a family, providing for that family and pursuing the American Dream. He held very traditional American beliefs, especially when it came to our history. He was adamant about teaching the American Dream to his three kids.

Tony served our nation in harm's way during three tours in Iraq, providing intel support and translating services. His skill, determination, and willingness to sacrifice his personal safety in service to our country helped to save American lives and defeat our enemies.

Tony's coworkers also knew him to be a very lovable, but very tireless mischief maker; always with a wry, dry sense of humor.

His work at Blackbird made a difference. He played a key role in sensitive intelligence work that has had a measurable impact on our national security. But more importantly, Tony was a wonderful friend, a selfless and loyal American, a loving husband, and proud father.

He will be missed.
