How do you describe such an amazing person in just a few short paragraphs?

My mom was beautiful inside and out. She was kind, loving, and generous. Growing up, our house was filled with music, singing, and laughter. Christmas was her favorite holiday, and even when money was tight, she always made sure there were gifts under the tree. I remember one year in particular; she gave me something I wanted but never asked for. When I asked how she knew, she said, "I saw how you admired it in the store, and I wanted you to have it." That was mom, exceedingly thoughtful and perceptive.

She loved to write, and every card she sent, whether for a holiday, a birthday, or just because, included a handwritten note expressing how much you were loved and how proud she was of you.

An Italian girl from North Jersey, she loved pasta, makeup, jewelry, and perfectly styled hair. Her love was unconditional, and her support and encouragement were unwavering.

Mom was tiny, fierce, strong, and stubborn. She was always available for a phone call, no matter the time of day or night. Everyone she met called her "Mom". A childhood friend recently told me you were the mom she wished she had, and it reminded me how incredibly lucky I was to have you as a mother.

Mom, you were our everything and were loved beyond measure. A thousand lifetimes with you still wouldn't be enough.

Our hearts are shattered, but we find comfort in knowing you are at peace and without pain.

We love you now, forever, and always.

“Dedicated to the most amazing person I’ve ever met, my wonderful nana.

the best grandmother you could imagine, I lost my mother, my grandmother and best friend at the same time. But I’ll stay strong for her just like she would, she was the strongest person I’ll ever know, nothing could keep her down.

Every visit I had with her were the best days of my life, from playing games to sitting down to talk, no matter what we did it was the best times possible, I appreciated every moment I had with her and always will, our talks were the best i already miss them, she’s the only person I could tell anything and feel comfortable telling anything, we sat down for hours and talked about everything and it never got dry, anything we did I felt comfortable knowing wherever I was with her I could call it my home. she’s the person I will always love the most and always miss the most and never put anyone above. She provided me with so much love and care that nobody will ever compare to her, she protected me and had my back from day one until the end, like a true Italian grandmother, and I know she’ll continue to watch over me and protect me.

she taught me everything I know and I love her so much I’ve turned into a mini version of her.

From her attitude to her love of music, everything I do is because of her and I love it, I can’t wait to live my life and make her proud.

I’ll always miss you nana, I’ll never forget my best friend and will always keep a piece of you in my heart, I can go through each day with peace knowing you are no longer in pain, you deserve to rest and no longer worry about me.

I know I’ll make you proud and do everything I told you I’d do, I can’t wait to continue your legacy and let everyone know you were the best grandma a kid could have and the best person a man could ever meet, I’ll always keep a young heart for you and hope to bring out the inner child in others like only you could. you’ve changed me forever and I’ll always be thankful for that.
