

Nicole Koren Sneathen

December 15, 1978 - June 24, 2015

Nicole Koren Sneathen, 36, of Orlando, FL, passed away Wednesday, June 24, 2015. To her friends and loved ones she is Nikki, she was born in Maryland but raised thirty one years of her life in Florida, Florida was home. She loved to read, the beach, nature, gardens, flowers, she loved to dance, draw and paint.

She loved animals, and her little chihuahua Gigli. She was free spirited and full of life always taking chances.

She had friends all over and family in Orlando FL, West Virginia and Maryland, her family include, Mother Barbara and stepfather Kevin, Jerry, Deanna, Chad, Chelsea, John and Anthony, all in the vicinity of Orlando, Her father George, stepmother Eileen, Kyle, Matt and Zach of West Virginia, many nieces and nephews and a couple great nieces. She spent a lot of time at the Seminole Indian Reservation in Okeechobee FL.

She was her mother's sunshine even through the storms.

"I tell of hearts and souls and dances...

Butterflies and second chances;

Desperate ones and dreamers bound,

Seeking life from barren ground,

Who suffer on in earthly fate

The bitter pain of agony hate,

Might but they stop and here forgive
Would break the bonds to breathe and live
And find that God in goodness brings
A chance for change, the hope of wings
To rest in Him, and self to die
And so become a butterfly.”

“ Nikki, its coming up on nine years, nine years...I miss you every single day of my life. Who would ever imagine your nephew, brother and father would be joining you so soon. Losing you and your brother have been devastating to say the least and I will never recover, my heart truly aches as it is broken. So many things have changed, and so many things have changed in me, but the one thing that will remain unchanged is the love I have for you, my baby girl. So many people have expressed their love for you, it fills my heart knowing people will remember you just as I do. Always know that I love you and your brother so very much, until my last breath you both will be remembered. Love always, momma

“ There will never be another Nikki Koren...so many times I've thought of you over the years. You and your family...I am so very sad discovering that you are not with us anymore. I said some things to you that I deeply regret. Some of the best times of my life were spent with you by my side. I hope you have found peace...you were so beautiful, like none other I ever witnessed. Sitting in the sink...putting your make up on, that you never needed...but it was truly a sight to see. Watching you glow in the mirror, as an admirer...you always had my full attention. You are missed...will always be loved...I am so saddened by the news of your passing. Had so much fun with you...you were one of a kind. Rest in Peace, Baby Girl...love you lots!

“ I was shocked to hear of your passing. I was so surprised when you found me on Facebook in 2011. 10 years had passed but we started talking like we never missed a day. I remember us being in love when we were young and stupid. We were gonna meet up and both so excited about it then poof... you disappeared again. I never got to see you and that saddens me. I pray you rest in peace Nikki you'll always have a special place in my heart! Your Justin, always!

“ So quiet this morning and was enjoying it until my mind started wandering. Another year, another year of sorrow that I thought others didn't see. I feel I have changed, I fell dead inside sometimes. I tried to be better this year at Christmas but your birthday always brings me sorrow but happy more of us were together again. So many things make me think of you. So many things also make me sad. Watch over the boys and know that they are good kids but I want them on the right path. Your princess seems to be doing good, I know you see that. Your sister is having a hard time with Austin being gone as we all are, but it's nothing like a mother's grief. I want changes, I need changes, I need peace. Our family needs hope and change. Too many distant or on the wrong path doing the wrong things and not making changes needed. I need the hope of a better life for my future generations. I love you so much Nik, I can't take the pain sometimes. I try so hard to help keep others together when I am the one that has fallen apart. Know that you are so very much loved and missed, Know that you will live in future generations, know that you will never be forgotten. Hold on to my pocket and walk with me...I love you.

“ I just heard the news 2 days ago when I was looking to find you yet again on Facebook & I just feel sick. The years we have been apart never changed how I felt about you. You and Heather Fletcher for the best part of my childhood and all the memories we shared I will never forget. We were constantly practicing dances that we made up. We loved going in the woods when we lived on Trotters and bvl and just exploring. Making forts, or trying to make forts I should say. Do I need to others hair and makeup and I even have some photos of us dressing up and taking pictures of each other like we were supermodels or something. Last year I went back to bvl and drove down our old Street thinking of how me you and Chad would walk around the lake together. I'm so very sad, but I know you are in peace now. After nearly 30 years I have never forgotten you, and I never will. You had grown into such a beautiful beautiful lady and I still am jealous as I was of you when we were in elementary school.lol. rest in peace my beautiful butterfly. And if your mom Barbara or your sister Deanna brother Chad or Jerry see this I hope they can contact me I would love to send them photos of you in early years.

No Goodbyes! I WILL see you later. 😔💔

“ *I miss you. Please watch over the kids and guide them in the right direction, you know what I'm talking about..I talk to you about it all the time. The second anniversary of you being gone was hard, I think I then realized you really were never coming back. I often think of the little blue eyed girl holding onto my pants pocket as we walked. The little girl dancing to Solid Gold with legs in the air all over the place trying to keep up with the dancers. Feeding squirrels peanut butter, next you in preschool then growing up. Life is unfair, sometimes all people need is the right chance in life and it not be cut short or taken away so soon. I am having a hard time bouncing back, I don't feel myself anymore. Tell me you are okay, maybe I can once again rest at night.I talk to you, and I know I ask why a lot but sometimes why is all I have. I message you on facebook, I wish you were here to answer back. “ Nikki there is not a single day that goes by that I do not think about you! Your smile, grace, personality, charm, voice, compassion I miss everything about you! I still cannot believe that you are not here with us anymore. I miss you deeply so very much!! I know I have to accept it but I still can't don't want to and probably never will be able to. If I only had one wish that could ever come true it would be to have you back with us! God put you in my life for the best and I enjoyed every waking moment we got to spend together! I'll cherish those memories forever and I'll never forget about you! They say God has a plan for us all and everything happens for a reason. I find myself questioning everything including my own life and things I've done in the past. I want you to know that I love you Nikki! I always have and I always will! I'm sorry I was the way I was. I was confused with my own life at the time and I have many regrets. I wish you were here and we could start a new chapter. Just know that I will always love you and I will never forget you! Barbara Sneathen - May 04, 2016 at 09:41 AM

“ This morning I learned of the passing of Ms. Nicole Koren Sneathen. I am deeply saddened by this heartbreaking news. Part of me refuses to accept that she is gone.

I had the honor of meeting Nicole in early February of 2014. She was residing in Lake Worth at the time. As a first responder I was a member of the crew who was able to assist her by providing the care and medical treatment which she required on that night.

Although we met during a time of distress I'd like to think that the outcome led to an interchange of encouragement for the both of us. Oftentimes we do not have the opportunity to follow up with many of the patients who we come in contact with. Nicole was different.

After returning home from my shift that very next day I sent her a Get Well card along with a Publix gift card. Through this quiet and humble act I had hoped to cheer her up. I hoped that it would serve as a reminder to Nicole that she wasn't alone and that there were people out there who genuinely care. It was the first time in my career that I was moved to do something like that. As public servants we diligently strive to give our absolute best to those whom we are called upon to help. However, once the call is complete that is usually where we encounter a disconnect.

With Nicole there was never a disconnect. She was the exception to the rule. That was the immense power that resonated within Nicole's being. She was surrounded by an overwhelmingly special aura of kindness and generosity. Her gentle and thoughtful nature warmed the hearts of those around her each and every single day. She possessed a rare and unique inner light that inspired and motivated others. Hers was a light that burned brightly and freely, it is a light that will never fade, nor is it a light that I will forget.

Nicole had made a profoundly positive impression upon me. I wrote that I would never stop caring about her, that I would never stop believing in her. Nicole's wonderful spirit will continue to burn brightly within each of us who she has touched. Her memory will continue to live on as we carry her along with us. She will never be far from our thoughts. I am so thankful to have been allowed the privilege of knowing her.

I lost my mother two months ago. I understand the suffering which is experienced when we lose a loved one. I also know how vitally important it is to have moments like these, where we are able to remember those who have touched us and who will continue to touch our lives.

Thank You to The Sneathen Family as well as the, A Community Funeral Home, for providing this beautiful arrangement which allows us as individuals to come together and share our precious and lasting memories of Nicole.

Nicole will never stop warming my heart. She will never stop inspiring me. She will forever bring a smile to my face even on those days in which I don't feel like smiling.

“ Nikki,
I can still remember the first day we met. We were in a group and had to say positive things about each other. Funny thing is that after only knowing each other literally five minutes I was able to tell you things about you that were positive and inspiring. After that we were inseparable. I felt that I was able to tell you anything and we truly became best friends over night. You never judged any of the negative things that were happening in my life. All you ever did was offer support. I'm sorry that we didnt get to see each other in the last year. I will miss you dearly. Still doesn't seem real. Until we met again my "codependent "

“Nikki, my beautiful girl, those beautiful eyes and perky mouth. How can I express the how very much I love you and can't believe you're gone. The baby girl conceived in Georgia, the baby girl I carried, the baby girl I gave birth to and nursed, the baby girl I taught to walk and talk, sent off to school. I watched you swing those long skinny legs around trying to keep up with Solid Gold, if you wanted to know a dance all you did was watch the steps and you knew it, it didn't matter what the type of music was. I watched you feed the squirrels peanut butter, you loved strawberry shortcake dolls as a child, your barbie's and stuffed animals all lined up neatly in a corner together even though cleaning your room consisted of shoving it under the bed. You liked to draw, paint and later impressed me with your air brush skills. I remember the first time we went to Disney in 84, you loved it's a small world, being by mommy's side in awe. You always had your little fingers in my pocket as we walked. You would eat your siblings peas and they would pile them on your plate because they knew you would eat them. You hated the sight of blood and would feel faint when around it. You loved Little Mermaid and would sing along and would act like Ducky from Land Before Time. You grew into a teen that took pride in her makeup and hair, grew into a young lady who could 4-wheel, fish and get dirty like the rest. You loved the beach, you would roller skate to the beach in St Petersburg, loved Cocoa Beach. You loved to travel and see new things, you had the live day by day take it as it comes attitude with a lot of talent and dreams. You loved healthy foods and sushi, Japanese food and momma's good old cooking. Your favorite flower is the ornamental Lily and I have a bunch ready to plant for you and you also love butterflies so I will make sure we have a lot around. As every family we had our ups and downs, disappoints and pride, but we all love one another. You are missed and as you wished you are here with me. I talk to you often, I wonder if you're listening... I know you know that I love you, I will always remember our last hug and talk out in the driveway before you left on a date and how beautiful you are. I know you were met by Nanny, and grandma Marjorie and your little niece Hailey and the little boy you told me about.

Until we meet again you are forever in my daily thoughts and prayers and I will forever remember the good times, the hugs and kisses and the love we shared.

Nikki the hardest thing I have ever done in my life was to stand by your bedside and say goodbye...walking out of that door knowing I couldn't take you with me, knowing it was final, feeling my heart break knowing I had to continue life without you.

I love you with all my heart, your momma always

“ Nikki;

What does a father say? How does a father feel when one of his children leaves the bonds of this world to go before him to the everlasting? It's hard for me in words to express my grief, my sorrow, my pain and the sense of loss inside of me. A part of my very existence is now missing. When I think of you, all I can think of is your "Beauty"! I remember returning home from the Army and when stepping off the bus for the first time ever seeing you all I could think of was "How Beautiful"! How "Beautiful" you were there in your blue and white dress cradled in your mother's arms. I could not believe God gave us such a "Beautiful Gift". I asked your mother "what is that" pointing toward your little arm? It was a tiny "heart" shaped birthmark she explained. I thought how wonderful it was that God had placed his stamp of approval upon you. My "Beautiful Baby Girl" everyone adored you. You created an amazing extra sparkle in the eyes of those who loved you, especially "Grandma". Grandma's eyes would light up with joy and she would do that little giggle when you and she were together. You had brought her great happiness. As you grew, we became separated from time to time. But, each time I was able to again gaze upon you all I could think of was "How Beautiful". My little "Baby Girl" such a "Beautiful Gift". As the time drew near to you leaving us I stood by your bedside and told you to call out to our other father "JESUS" that you were coming home. However, I also prayed to our father asking for those of us who loved you if possibly we could keep our "Beautiful Gift" for just a little while longer. Our father God in Heaven in all of his power and glory decided he now needed our "Beautiful Gift" more than we did to add to his Beauty of Heaven. He also needed your help to prepare a wondrous place for all of us who loved you for our great homecoming day. It gives me great solace knowing that our father now has his loving arms wrapped around you. However, I cannot lie..... I will be sadly missing my "Baby Girl", my "Beautiful Gift" until my day of going home.

Until then "Baby Girl"....

I love You

Daddy

“ Love you Nikki! You will be missed very much. my favorite memories of us is sitting around watching movies and you calling me your little princess. Loved it when me, you. John and Anthony would spend a little bit of our summers 4 wheeling, swimming and fishing,you always made sure we were having a good time! I am so sad we hit a bump in the road, but I will always think of our good times together.. I love you so much RIP (princess) Nikki

Nikki I will miss you always. I never stopped asking about you, looking for you. I will look up when i'm thinking about you and wishing to see you, whenever you spot me looking up in search of you, wink and shoot me a smile. Through good and bad we cared deeply for each other, painful or not we pushed on. now I will carry the pain to know I will not see you in this life. I love you. Will Goris
