Son of Jesús Moreno and Josefina Favela, brother of Alejandro, Leticia, and surviving brothers Vicente, Fernando, y Mario Moreno. He started his journey from Mexico, to Texas, and made his final move to Orlando, FL in 1986. He was a hard working man, devoted his love and providing for his daughters Elizabeth Moreno (Seo Thach), Sandy Limon, and Esther Moreno (Ivan Read) along with his only son Matthew Moreno (Nelda Ortiz). In his younger years of life, he loved to play soccer. When he could no longer play, he continued to watch Soccer and was involved in all kinds of sports. His TV was always on, it was his therapy. You would hear basketball, football, baseball, and soccer games all day long. His favorite American football team was the Dallas Cowboys and Mexican Soccer team was Las Agilas de America. He was a genuine and compassionate man, easy going, and easily made friends where ever he went. If he knew anyone was in need, he would provide what he could to help them. It was never hard for him to say no, it was easy for him to give what he could. His infamous saying was, "If you can help and provide, do it, and don't expect anything back." He loved God and knew that God never abandon him and God was there through all his journey, even in the last moments of his life.
