

Pablo Casildo Ruiz Rodriguez

August 17, 1960 - April 29, 2021

Pablo Casildo Ruiz Rodriguez, 60 of Ocala Florida unexpectedly passed away on Thursday April 29, 2021.

Pablo was born in Añasco, Puerto Rico on August 17, 1960. He was an island boy at heart and enjoyed everything that the beautiful beaches of Puerto Rico had to offer. When he was not surfing, he was out fishing. Pablo was a hard-working man; he was skilled in-home repairs among other things. His heart was driven to feed the homeless as often as he could. Pablo also traveled throughout the United States. His story telling always included sound effects and body movements. He was the king of Aruchitas.

Pablo will be lovingly remembered by his mother Miriam Rodriguez. He is predeceased by his father Casildo Ruiz and his grandmother Dominga Gonzales Valentin and his grandfather Francisco Rodriguez. He is survived by his children, Sulesky Ruiz, Pablo J. Ruiz Jr, Paul Wesley Ruiz, and Shirley Ruiz. He leaves behind 5 grandchildren, Yasibelle Quinonez, Mark Quinonez, Jenesis Rodriguez, Wesley Ruiz, and Nolan Ruiz. Pablo is also survived by his siblings, Luis Caro, Angel Caro, Oscar Caro, Myrna Rodriguez, and Victor Claudio. Amongst other family and friends.

Pablo's wishes will be followed, there will be a private family gathering followed by a mass. Lastly, he will be put to rest at his happiest place on earth, where he could be one with the waves and never miss a sunset.

“ What I truly respected and loved about my fiancé is how respectful he was to everyone. I never once in 9 years heard him criticize, belittle or yell at anyone because he had a bad day or because they looked different. He also always brought some food to homeless individuals who were always at Walmart. He understands what they are going through because, for a short time, he was homeless, and not one member of his family or any friends stepped up to help him so he made sure that he could do for the homeless here, which no one would do for him. I love and miss you so much, Papi...I am surviving without you...but that's it...just surviving..I'm numb

“ One of my memories of him that's how you used to tell me all these wild and crazy stories about when he was a fisherman and going on in the boat and the other night and the waves and the tides and how crazy it was out there and so dark and actually kind of scary you know. Night of course he didn't like anybody else on the boat no so he kept it all to himself. He was telling me this one time the story about how they got stranded on a island out there in the middle of the ocean because a huge storm came through and they had almost no provisions because they were headed inland. Then stay out there for much 2 days for the storm to calm down he said it was just absolutely horrible. He said that one time when they went under the water to try and get something to eat I see today food down there these huge huge fish over 5 ft long we're just sitting there staring at them when he went down and they were so scared but they were lucky because they had a dart gun on each of them. He said it didn't really do much but it did enough that they were able to get away. Geez, he had so many crazy stories of being out there fishing but he absolutely loved it he wouldn't have traded it for the world he loved getting up and going to work everyday he loved being a fisherman. the only thing he loved more than that was able to bring home the fish and he'd also bring home crab and whatever you could get his hands on..some crawfish to his mom and filling up her freezer he absolutely loved doing that for her. It made him very proud

“ He was my first and only True Love and will be my last True Love! I cry as I write this. Tears of sorrow and happiness. Not all of my tears are sorrow, but most tears are of happiness because I know that he has met our father and that he is finally at peace ready to start a new adventure in life. We were engaged to be married in August 2017, but an accidental fall had us postpone so I would be able to walk down the aisle. We had a lot of happiness and adventures together like our fishing trips, driving up to Wisconsin to see my family, our camping trips with the wonderful stories he would tell me. Especially when he talked about as a child, how his beloved grandfather taught him how to use a machete to chop down the sugarcane before school at the tender age of 5. He loved his grandfather so very much and never could fill the void in his heart when he passed. He loved to go swimming, remodeling the house, work as a maintenance technician, landscaping our property, and most of all...he loved to be loved right back I was always so surprised by his thoughtfulness. He was kind and caring and would be right there to help anyone out if they needed something. I will miss you with every fiber in me my love, When the time is right, I will join you. I can't wait for all the stories he will have to tell me. I can't wait for the new and most awesome adventures we will have together yet! I love you, Papi
