“ As the oldest grandchild I have so many memories, but my most fond memories are the time she would take me to church ( I'll never forget her voice as she sang what is now my favorite worship song “ alabade a mi señor.” Or when she would say come let go shopping grab the cart and we'd walk to where ever no matter how far it was. And last but definitely not least were the time she'd make coffee with bread (had to be stromans”) and butter just to sit down and watch her morning soap boppers or the channel 6 news. All my memories of the times I share with my grandma are fond and very cherished. I love u abuela this is not goodbye but definitely until we meet again which I very much look forward to.
