“ What a great man who will be missed by all who knew you Sunshine. Deployments will never be the same. You had so much love and compassion for the survivors and for all those you worked with. You were my sunshine and always will be. I cannot get the memory out of my mind of our deployment on Staten Island, Hurricane Sandy, where we found our "fishin hole" and we stopped every morning for peanut M&M's, our "bait" and off we went, to fish for survivors and get them registered. You had so much love that flowed from your heart that even the most upset survivor would be laughing and shaking your hand when they walked away. Sunshine, you are missed so much every day but I know you are well now and Im quite sure you have made friends with all the other Angels in heaven. I know you are looking down and guiding all of your friends and family here. May Taylor and Monica feel your love with the brush of every gentle breeze on their cheek and may they feel you by them with every new day of sunshine. R.I.P. my forever Sunshine.

“ I worked with Ray in the Staten Island Division E Office for FEMA Superstorm Sandy Response. Ray was always friendly and fun to be around. He also worked very hard out in the field helping disaster survivors. He will be missed by his FEMA Colleagues and his dedication and compassion to disaster survivors will be a huge loss in the Disaster Response arena.

“ What a guy. I worked in the field with Ray and it seemed like he could never pass a fruit stand without checking for fresh tomatoes. He always brightened everyone's day. Susan and I had the pleasure of his visit for a few days and participated in some great Italian cooking and conversations. Our memories of Ray will always be about the joy in knowing him. R.I.P

“ I worked with Ray at FEMA, where he was in supervisory rolls and I found him to be very fair, not showing favoritism like so many others. He was well liked and will be missed.
Ray was in FEMA for the right reasons and was a tireless worker.

“Dad - It took me a few days to build up the courage to write on your tribute wall. I often think, am I stuck in a nightmare and will I be able to wake up and call you? I know it won't get easier, rather I will just get stronger over time. Thank you for 27 years of unconditional love, answering my calls at all hours of the night and calling just to tell me you love me. You provided me with a Safe Haven in some of my darkest days and love and light during my happiest of happy days. Thank you for fighting hard enough to attend my wedding - I can't even put into words how much that meant to Joe and me. You will always be my Daddy and lucky for me, I have years of memories to last a lifetime. Rest in Peace, Dad. I love you more than you will ever know.

I hope you know how much you meant to him, Howie. You were one of his best friends and he looked forward to your daily phone calls. Often, I would be driving home from work and he would say "Hey Tay, let me call you right back, Howie is calling." :)
