“ I was one of Ray's engineering aides at Victory Engineering in Springfield NJ in the late 70s. I, as well as the other young engineers, learned a lot from Ray during our time there. He was a great engineer, and a great guy. I've thought about him many times over the years and am quite saddened to hear of his passing. My sincere condolences to his entire family.

“ I wish we all could have had more time with you, Mr. Ray. (Especially since most of the time we shared I was wearing a spacesuit...) Please be sure to visit us, especially your remarkable sons who are so proud to call you "Dad". Rest in peace.

“ Disney meant so much to my dad. He always knew that one day he'd work for Disney; I remember him saying so on our vacations. Friendship Boats never felt like work for him, he truly enjoyed himself. I've never been to Disney on my own without him being there whether working on the weekends or making a special trip during the week to see me. Great memories on my CP's. He used to work at Epcot autoplaza when I worked monorails. I'd text him which monorail I'd be driving and he'd stand outside the booth and give me a big wave. I'd acknowledge him by giving a blast of the horn. It quickly became an exchange we always looked forward to. On my last CP I worked at Mission: Space. Of course I always closed so we didn't get to go out as much so after his shift he'd wait at the break trailer behind the building just so we could at least walk to the parking lot together. It's always the little things that mean so much and I'll never forget.

“ Ray always had a smile and a hug for me. I got to know him really well when I worked as a CP at the Friendships and I was always happy to see him when I returned as a seasonal cast member. I'm very sad to hear about his passing.

“ I also worked with Ray at Epcot. He had a dry witty sense of humor that would get me every time. One of the nice guys. R.I.P. Ray.

“ So sorry to hear about Ray's passing. I worked at EPCOT on Saturdays with Ray. He always joked that he knew it was Saturday when he saw me come in for work. I'm not sure how he handled that after I retired a year ago, but I knew he would figure it out. He was a dependable guy.
