“ *When the enemy death strikes your grief can be great. It's never the right time to say goodbye to a loved one. Death too to many seems to be a part of life. It's during times such as these that we can find comfort in the Lord's Prayer in Matthew 6:9, 10 ~ "Our Father in the heavens, let your name be sanctified. Let your kingdom come. Let your will take place, as in heaven, also upon earth". Only God's (Psalms 83:18) Kingdom can bring peace, happiness, perfect health, and everlasting life. “ My sincere condolences to the family of Mr. Batson. There are a few things in life that hurts as much as the death of a loved one. But it is at these times that we turn to our Heavenly Father for comfort. He is described as "the Father of tender mercies and the God of all comfort."-2 Cor 1:3,4. He comforts us with such scriptures as Acts 24:14,15, Rev 21:3,4, John 5:28,29. For more comfort from the Bible, please visit jw.org. Thanks!:)

“ I was introduced to Robert and Art about nine years ago and have since grown to know them through work. However, it was never just work, it was life. What was happening in my life, what was happening in theirs. It was about sharing, and hopes, and still is.

Robert was about hope, he was an optimist and he was about giving when he could. The previous sentence used the word, was, but it is now, and what he shared with me about life is a now, with me. Robert, you have changed my perspective on life, thank you for your gift.

It is now. And now Art is without Robert and that brings me to a sad place; for a bit. However, these two brothers have also taught me that I have a brother, and that we need each other. I am again thankful, to the both of them, for that gift and Art will be in my thoughts and prayers. It is my wish that Art feel the presence of those prayers and feels the support that is around him; he is not alone.

Art and Robert, the Batson brothers. The video attached to this page says more than any written piece ever could, so please, if your reading this, view the video.

Peace be with you, Art. Blessings and rest to you, Robert. To you, Robert, to your life! You will be missed.

“ I have known Robert since 1981 via his brother Art. I got to know the whole family very well . Robert was a very special person. He had a very unique personality and a very contagious laughter. I never once heard him say he was pissed at anyone or anything. I/we most people have something they do not like be it politics religion or your next door neighbor, something. I just never heard him complain about anything. Just a very happy go luck person. We had some of the best conversations ever in person while under the influence of something or the other with some booze in the mix with Robert. I had partied with him in some very insane fun ways. He literally brought out the wild side of me. I just can not tell you details but it always involved music and booze ...

He called me not too long ago and kept saying it sure is nice to hear your voice Louis, you are someone I remember from way back and we reminisced on things and that naturally involved much laughter. I also knew about the turbulent waters that Robert would sometimes wonder into and the dangerous things found in those deep currents. But Art his beloved brother would always bring Robert back out of the deep. Time and time again Art would do it. No matter that Robert would have just been rescued from those turbulent waters by Art. If Robert fell back in or for what ever the reason Robert jumped in. It did not matter. Art said he is my brother and that is how it is. Art had big plans for Robert. Sometimes I did not think Art was thinking well, I must admit I once was taken back at Arts quick forgiveness of Robert jumping back into those deep troubled waters. But Art did time and time again. Only Art can know more about Robert than anyone one of us. I just count myself very fortunate to have known Robert Batson. Robert you were so crazy in so many ways but it was a wonderful crazy. A crazy with so many twist and turns. From having a wife to having a husband and things in between. You have taught me many things that are not in the ordinary road of life. I will forever miss you my friend. But I know will we meet again on the other side some day as we all will do. Rest in peace Robert be at peace.

“ When I heard Robert was in ICU, critical condition, not looking hopeful, my car pulled over. I could not drive. The next day, when my phone rang, Robert had passed, my day stopped. I did not function all day. Robert and I worked together for 7 years. What I will remember about Robert is his infectious laugh. His spiritual journey that he frequently shared with me in depth. His class act. How much he enjoyed life. Most importantly.....the love he had for his brother.....he called Arty. Brothers live and die and do not share what the Batson Brothers lived through in their journey together. They took care of each other. STUCK by each other. No matter what their challenges were.....the brotherly love always won. I have so much respect for that. Yes. Robert is a man I will think about often. He is a man who will stay in my heart. He is a man who called me his sister. We said, "I love you," many times. Death is a teacher of life. What Robert taught me is life is here to enjoy. To relax. To be good to your friends. To live it fully with a dancing heart. Robert had a soul. An unselfish soul. I am grateful he shared that with me. I love you, Robert W. Batson. You will be missed. May you eternally rest in peace, my dear friend in spirit.

“ Those we love can never be more than a thought apart, far as long as there is memory, they'll live on in the heart.

In memory of my brother Robert I will never forget you.
