

Rob P. Martinez Timana

January 27, 1985 - April 17, 2024

Robert “Rob” Paul Martinez Timana was born on January 27, 1985 in Manhattan, New York. He grew up in Queens, New York where he spent his childhood playing with friends, whether that was basketball, handball, manhunt, or video games, and teaching himself how to cut hair. Rob grew to be a successful and well-known barber in the Queens area because of his determination and passion for barbering and his family. In 2013, he and his family moved out of New York City for new opportunities in Orlando, Florida, where extended family welcomed him with open arms. Nonetheless, Rob never neglected the city that raised him, and always taught his girls to do the same. He successfully continued his career in Orlando for over 10 more years, gathering countless clients in all of Florida and even out-of-state.

Rob enjoyed simple things in life, such as action figures, midnight snacking, and cutting hair. Still, he also loved the extravagant, like celebrations for any and everything, loud music, and spending time with so many people he loved to call family. To Rob, the word “family” meant everyone. Whether you are blood related, a childhood friend, a new family-friend, a client, a fellow colleague, you are family.

Rob passed away on April 17th, 2024 in Orlando, Florida at the age of 39. He is survived by his three beautiful daughters Jaliene, Kaitlyn, and Leilani Martinez, his parents Margarita and Pablo, and younger sister Elizabeth, along with many extended family members, and loyal friends. Loved by many, Rob will be missed dearly, but memories of him will always be cherished, and his legacy will live on, never forgotten.

“ cousin....everyday is hard knowing i won't talk to you again or see that cheesy smile you always had plastered on your face that would light up every single room in the place, everyone would instantly know you and your family arrived. i wish we talked more during my adult years but i'll never forget the last time i saw you in Florida. You got me out of that shell of a room that i was in with depression and anxiety, told me you missed me and to come join the family, to not be alone. We'll always love and miss you, rest easy. ❤️ I know you're guarding our big familia from up there. 🕊️❤️

“ I'm so grateful you got to meet and spend some time with my Izzy girl. Izabella will know all about her jokester, loving, good hearted and obnoxiously loud Tio Rob. Nelson and I will make sure she knows how much you loved her in such a short time. Rest easy big brother 🕊️ We miss you and we love you forever ❤️

“ Mannnn, this took me a minute to wrap my head around. There's so many more memories to show but this is how I choose to remember you. The Real You. We've been through it all. For 18 years, we were best friends, before anything else. Despite our struggles we remained grounded for our girls. No one knew you like I did. You were such a goof ball. You couldn't care less what anyone thought as long as your girls were happy. They have thick skin because of you. You were the best dad in the world to them. You have my word that I'll never let them forget it. I got it from down here now. Just protect us from up there 🙏
Rest Peacefully Rob 🕊️📺

“ From NY to Florida, no matter how far or near you were my barber. Then I realized, it was much more than that it was just my reason to meet up with my friend to hang out, play pool, talk smack and have drinks. Much more than just a barber, you were a dear friend.

I'll miss our ability to catch up, but I'm forever grateful for the memories we were able to make. I love you

“ You 3 were such knuckleheads together and the best of friends. Always playing Halo, basketball, handball and hanging in front of the building. I'll miss you my friend. RIP Rob, I know you're in a better place now watching over your babies. ❤️ #120crew
