

Rose E. Renedo

August 28, 1946 - February 6, 2026

Like a sunset that lingers long after the light has faded, the spirit of Rose Edelmira Renedo remains with us, though she found her peace in the arms of the Father on February 6.

Rose was a cherished daughter, mother, and friend. Born and raised in Tampa, she took great pride in her Cuban heritage, which deeply shaped her character, her compassion, and the values she held dear. She believed that no one was beyond the reach of kindness, and she lived her life as a testament to that belief.

As a social worker, Rose championed those in drug rehabilitation and advocated for the blind, treating every individual with profound dignity and care. For Rose, the line between her work and her heart never existed; helping others was simply the essence of who she was — a quiet, steady force for good in a world that often needs it most.

A passionate world traveler, Rose explored many countries, yet her spirit always found a sacred harbor in Italy. There, her love for history, art, and the richness of life felt most alive, reflected in the golden light and ancient echoes of a culture she deeply admired. She carried that warmth home with her, illuminating the lives of everyone she touched.

Above all, Rose was her son's best friend and his greatest light. With a heart of gold and a soul of quiet grit, she possessed the extraordinary gift of presence — a way of listening and loving that made every person feel truly seen and valued. Though she has found her rest, the love she cultivated as a mother, friend, and pillar of her family forms a tapestry that will never unravel. This garden of connection will never stop blooming; her story lives on through the resilience of those she loved and the unwavering grace she leaves behind.

“The sun has set, but the glow of her grace illuminates our path forever.”

“Rose was like a second mother to me, but was also a friend. She was a kind lady who never forgot to leave a message or a birthday wish or check on you if you were sick. She was so good to me. She was very fun to be around or go to dinner and always had a story to tell. She was a loving mother to Rich and the hole she leaves will never be filled. We will all miss her greatly.

“Dear Ricky, I am so sorry for the passing of your beloved Mom Rosie. You truly were her best friend and the light of her life. I will miss her deeply. My prayers are with you and I am here for you always. Love, Sharon and Stephen

Dear Cousin Rosie- You have left us to be with our Heavenly Father and, while we rejoice knowing you are safely in His arms feeling no more pain, we are left to mourn your passing and to deeply miss your physical presence with us. I will always cherish the many happy memories of our family get-togethers which always involved many laughs and lots of good Cuban food, like the time you and my Mom made Bollitos on New Year's Eve! Your love and concern for my Stephen is something I will always remember and be thankful for. You were a very important person in his life. These last few years, as our family has gotten smaller, I am grateful that we grew closer, as we often had late-night phone chats reminiscing laughing, and even crying sometimes. We were there for each other and that is something I will always treasure. I love you, mi Prima. Rest in Peace. Love, Sharon

“ Mom,

There are no words that feel big enough to hold what you meant to me. You weren't just my mother, you were my comfort, my guide, and my best friend. You understood me in ways no one else ever could, and your love was the place I always returned to, no matter where life took me.

I will always be grateful that I could hold your hand, talk to you, and be with you until the very end. That love, that connection, is something time can never take away from us.

You gave so much of your heart to the world, helping people, lifting them up, and showing kindness even when life was hard. The way you loved others is the way I will try to live my life, because that is your legacy living on through me.

I miss you more than words can say, but I carry you with me every day, in my thoughts, in my choices, and in my heart.

I love you always.

Ricky
