“ Scott was a loyal friend, an outstanding physician, and a great swimmer in his youth. He was an optimist but at the same time a realist. Scott had a photographic memory and frequently challenged people to test it.

In medical school at Michigan State in the late seventies, he often expressed his love for the law which ultimately culminated in his graduation from the University of Florida School of Law. In 1982-1987, he served his country as a naval officer.

Scott loved Florida, three piece suits, action movies, Miller beer, disco, the Brother's Johnson, Hall and Oates, swimming, deep sea fishing and, above all, his family.

I lost a great friend, the world has lost a superb physician and the family has lost a dearly loved one.

This poem by Christopher Warner (no relationship) seems appropriate:

*God saw that he was getting tired,
A cure was not to be.
So HE put his arm around him
and whispered, "Come with Me."
With tearful eyes, we watched him suffer,
And saw him fade away.
Although we loved him dearly,
We could not make him stay.
A golden heart stopped beating,
Hard working hands to rest.
God broke our hearts to prove to us
He only takes the best.*

Dr. Warner was a great physician and a person of incredible warmth. He was the person you would always want to be your friend and to share with. All that he was was never shared in the doctor/patient relationship. His greatness was always exhibited on how well he knew you even though it had been months since he had seen you. His greatness showed when he was always ready to talk about his family and how his kids were doing. Dr. Warner saved my life and will always hold a special part in all that I can remember. A wonderful man with the largest heart
