“ My condolences to the family of Mr. Martin Jr, I am very sorry to hear about your loss. In this trying time, May you find comfort in God's Word the Bible, as you draw ever closer to our Heavenly Father Jehovah God. Your love ones ARE asleep. Add Acts 24:15 there is going to be a "resurrection hope". As God's Word the Bible speaks of a time when you will and can see your love ones once again. Forever on a Paradise Earth! My condolences, peace and blessings, my deepest sympathy. Jas.4:8, 2Thess.2:16,17, Psm.34:18

“ Terry, last night I was singing along with my iPod and a song came on that reminded me of you. I remembered how we used to talk on the phone for hours, and how sometimes you liked to just sit on the other end of the line and listen to me sing. You were so sweet. So tonight, I'll sing for you again. I love you. <3

“ I am the disabled uncle who couldn't be there. We had fun from birth through this terrible disaster. My Love is always with you Terry Jr, my prayers, my thoughts and my tears. I wish I had a bit of magic for you to have survived. From me seeing you in Orlando to you seeing me in Taylor, MICH., from the White Castles I bought you when small to the White Castles you bought me as you grew older. You've been an awesome boy and young man. Never in trouble. Diabetes will be cured one day soon, but you'll always be in my heart, soul & mind. 25 was to young for you to leave us. All my love, Uncle Chuck.

“ Kaleigh wants to share some memories. Like how he would bring her candy if she didn't feel well or just sometimes for a special surprise. Or how he would let her sit and watch him play games all day, but would not always let Chris. That was his way to get back at Chris for picking on her. Lol

“ To the family, Always remember, all those in the memorial tombs will hear Jesus' voice and come out. The bible's resurrection accounts give us a sure hope for the future. In paradise, those lost for now will be reunited with their loved ones. What a beautiful promise from God. John 5: 25 & 28

“ Tj, we spent two nights and days together! All the while I was upset, crying and going through some personal Issues. YOU, practically a stranger to me, made me laugh, smile and find some peace with the decision I was making at that time. When we finally got out of that truck after 10 hours of driving, I thought we might get kicked out of the motel we stayed at, for laughing so loud. I know a lot of your family and friends are saying "wth" right now. When were you in a motel with an older lady? In Tennessee?? This is why I wrote this, so we could share one more laugh together. You remind me so much of my own son, so full of life, love and laughter! Rest in peace sweet Tj, You will be sadly missed.

“ A memory ... We went camping and there were tornado warnings in the area. The campground employees went around in golf carts warning everyone to take cover. I was scared but not TJ. He wanted a campfire. The wind was so strong that day and TJ was determined to start that campfire. I remember laughing at TJ telling him he was never gonna get that fire started but after all those matches and all that paper ... finally TJ got that campfire started and then ... it started to rain. TJ thanks for that memory .. I had a great laugh. May you rest in peace.

I remember sitting in your room while you and Bailey were hacking away on your computer into people's yahoo and gmail account. The games you two played were funny but a little messed up. Especially when both of you turned on me and started on my accounts. Regardless, we had a lot of good times. You Will be missed.
