“ Good Morning Brother.... About to put the headphones on and listen to some of your fav jams. On the way to your service Fri. mom and I rode with Keri and Raph and they asked us if we'd like to listen to some of your fav metal and we were like of course. We listened to many diff bands & songs and we cranked up the Pantera especially. :-) I love you so much Duke. I still have shortness of breath and shake my head in disbelief every day but my faith and love as my guide will see me thru to where ever I'm headed next. We're always with each other brother, always! Tam

“ This is so unbelievable Duke. There is so much I am going to miss about you so where do I begin. One thing for sure I will miss you and Doug always making me guess who was who and I was never right and you both enjoyed edging me on. I will miss your replies to things I posted about or to your Uncle John, and always making me feel better when I was down. I will miss your sweet, caring and loving messages. Hug all that have passed before you for me, especially your dad and Uncle John. I will always love and miss you. Thank you for your love and respect for me. It meant so much all these years to me.
RIP my dear Great Nephew. I love you to the Moon and back. till we meet again on the other side of that moon.

“Duke has always been nothing but supportive of the local music scene here in Central Florida. I've known Cynthia for a few years and when she first introduced Duke to me, it was an immediate friendship. We hit it off "like peas and carrots" (Forrest Gump movie reference) We were both drummers and dorked out every single time we were together, especially when it came to both of our favorite drummers, Tommy Aldridge. Actually, one of the best compliments about my playing came from Duke. We said to me once, "Bro! You are so fun to watch, so cool. You sound like Tommy" I've never forgotten that and I never will.

Besides music, he was a very sweet man. He looked intimidating and mean, but was exactly opposite. Always, at least to me, spoke highly of his friends and never had anything negative to say. He loved Cynthia more than she probably realizes. I have done my share of reading people and looking at signs. His eyes spoke volumes when he stared at Cynthia.

I could continue, but I will not and just want to finish on this note. Duke was loved and respected by so many of us. I too will miss his silly smile and big bear hugs. I love you Duke. See you on the other brother

“ Brother, I dk how to just share A memory... maybe as time goes on I can share certain ones but my whole entire life has been "our memories" so what do I do?? What am I suppose to say?? I don't even know if I'm breathing right, walking right, what I do know is that I'm not thinking straight... I am overwhelmed with the loss of my big brother, my care taker, my protector and my safe place, my best friend. I can't stop remembering the next most significant man in my life after dad passed which is you. One of the worst times in all our lives awhile after dad passed and I was lost... Most of us were scattered between here and N.Y., and I wasn't sure of anything... how I was going to take care of your nephews, how we were gonna eat, how we were gonna stay sheltered???? And just like that, I called my big brother and not only did you say it was gonna be ok, but that you'd steal some food every damn day if ya had to, but you came to rescue w out even batting an eye for a second and you sheltered us, fed us, the whole nine but you were not talking out your ass. You meant every single word of what you said but the thing is about you and I is that you said those things, you meant it whole heart-idly & fearlessly, but all the unspoken-ness between you and I too. We can be together at any given time or not, and the POWER OF OUR LOVE (THE RIDE OR DIE TO THE END KIND) don't and didn't even need those words that you said to me that day. I knew it already, all of it, that you would do ANYTHING for me, for us! There are a lifetime of things to share. OmG the best friends things we did just hangin out normal from sometimes day to day, day to week(s) whatever & whenever... the laughs w the simplest shit, the cries, even the silence was comfortable, special, and content with my brother. I love you Duke... I already KNOW beyond a shadow of a doubt that you've been flying around me and ALREADY YOU DUKE, HAVE LET ME KNOW IT'S GONNA BE OK, THAT IT IS OK, THANK YOU BROTHER, MY HEART SPEAKS TO YOU CONSTANTLY HOW MUCH I LOVE YOU. THANK YOU FOR SPEAKING BACK!!!! Also, I will talk to you soon. FOREVER & ALWAYS, WE STAY WITH EACH OTHER!! Tam

This is so hard for me to wrap my head around, but even though we have not seen each other for so many year's, I will never forget the times you spent the night's over at my house and you & Kraig became very close. You two did alot of thing's together and always got along so well. I am so sorry your life ended way to soon, and I know how your family is grieving right now and I would do anything to be able to take the pain away. Knowing that is impossible, I will pray for them all always!!! I will always love and miss Duke. "Fly High Free Bird" and be at peace~~ As always, your friend Deb~~
