“ Pictures of my buddy from 2004....I met Bob back in 1996 when he came to work with me at Typhoon Lagoon , showed up with our other buddy JB.They were already the best of friends at this point,and I was the odd man out,Through the years we became brothers,I feel blessed to have known them both..
.I can say it was a great pleasure to work with him for almost 20 years, In all that time I never saw him in a bad mood.Bob was great fun to be around ,he was always happy and had a great wit about him.with a heart of gold..He was an excellent craftsman and took his job serious when he was called on.
A few things some may not know about him was, He had great depth of knowledge of music,I was very impressed with his memory of all types of music,that went into fine details of bands, he was quite the library of facts and figures on the subject.

Bob was a huge fan of BIGFOOT, lol. Really. He was always talking about hoping to see one , so , most mornings me and JB would tell him there was a sighting in the woods around Typhoon...that would always get him laughing.

I am happy knowing that Bob knew he was going heaven, we had a great many conversations about Christ and faith through the years. My brother, you will be forever in the hearts of all you touched, you will be greatly missed by all your friends at Disney. Thank you for giving me great memories that will be with me the rest of my life. My life is better for having known you.

God bless you.

“ Directions to cemetery ...You would come in on US 17 South all the way into Arcadia. When you get into Arcadia, take a right at the first one way- I think the street is called W Hickory St / FL-70. Follow that road out of Arcadia. You will come to a campground on the right hand side and a gas station on the left. You will not turn at the road by the campground, go just a little up and you will see a road (little road) that “2nd Bunker”...turn right...(it is just about where the sign is to increase speed again) Go down the little road, you will cross a wooden bridge and then start looking for a road call “cemetery road”, take a left and you cannot miss the cemetery.

Coming in to Arcadia you will take a left on 2nd Bunker (just before you would get to the campground. It is where there is a right curve to the road..

Service is at 2:20PM 11-21-15

“ Bob, was thirteen minutes younger than me, and I never let him forget I was his big sister. When we were young if anyone messed with one of us, the other joined the fray. We were a tag team you could say. Bob, had such a good heart and a wit that kept me laughing a lot. In high school he was voted most witty...the guys thought of him as a good friend to hang with and the girls thought they would like to hang with him too. Bob was always well liked...just one of those people who are real and approachable. I wish he could have gotten the chance to get his motorcycle all fixed up and taken a good spin on it. He loved motorcycles! He had been working on the motorcycle he has for years. A passion. In high school it was surfing! He used to make his own boards in our garage in Orlando. It gives me an almost anxiety attack every time I think of never seeing him again in this life...but there is the next one and we will meet again. I love you, Bob, you were and are an awesome brother to have!
